Tiny Sub Joins Marin Lab—Two Headed Man From Mars?

By CORENA GREEN

The ship population of the Tiburon Peninsula was increased by one this morning with arrival of a tiny two-man research submarine at the Department of the Interior's Tiburon Marine Laboratory. It resembles no other local craft. With the hatches open, it reminds one of a double pressure cooker. When down and in operation, any child can tell you it is a two-headed man from Mars. When not operating, the forward rudders are raised, giving the craft a Dumbosque profile. For her debut for the press, the craft sported a bright yellow paint job to make her more photogenic in the water. However, she will return to her original gray for underwater use.

The craft will enable scientists to enter the undersea environment safely and make direct observations. Research biologists will be able to accompany electronic and photographic equipment underwater to record and observe Marine creatures for extended periods.

The battery-powered submarine can operate to depths of 300 feet. The 2,000-pound craft offers each of the two occupants 360 degree viewing, and can cruise submerged for 10 hours at speeds ranging from two to six knots.

It will be used both here and in Baja, California for observing schooling and feeding behavior of fish, making surveys of bottom conditions, locating concentrations of fish, and studying behavior of sharks.

There are two conning towers on the submarine. The front tower is canted forward and down to increase visibility directly ahead of the craft and of the sea bottom.

The submarine is controlled by an airplane-type stick to give rapid response to hydroplanes and rudder at all speeds. Ballast tanks control and trim tanks permit the submarine to operate at positive, neutral, and negative buoyancy. It has two forward and two reverse speeds. An air filter system removes carbon dioxide, permitting the occupants to breathe clean air.

Radio-equipped, the craft is valued at about $9,000. It was constructed by the American Submarine Co., a division of the American Shipbuilding Corp. of Chicago. It was put through initial tests by the manufacturer before delivery to the laboratory at Tiburon.

SEAGOING 'DOUBLE PRESSURE COOKER'—Robert Kialawa peers from front cockpit and James Squire from rear as 12-foot two-man submarine carries the two marine research biologists of Tiburon Naval Net Depot on "shakedown cruise" off Tiburon. Submerged, with the bubble hatches down, they can watch the fish at play.

MARINWOOD IS DUE APARTMENTS AREA

Apartments for Marinwood were approved today by the Marin County Planning Commission, but there won't be as many of them as requested by developers.

In a unanimous decision, the commission approved an amended Marinwood Master Plan to allow construction of between 300 and 400 apartments on a 24-acre site at Miller Creek Road near Highway 101.

Developers D. M. Christensen Co. of San Rafael, Gerald P. Hoyt of Belvedere and Richmond, and Coldwell, Banker and Co. of San Rafael asked permission to build nearly 700 apartments on the site.

The Marinwood Assn. and the Marinwood Community Services District declared "high density" apartments would radically change the character of Marinwood.

In what he called a compromise, Commissioner Niels Schultz Jr. suggested 14 units an acre. The developers proposed 29 units an acre. Staff planners suggested 12.

Chairman William Upton, approving Schultz's motion, said, "The people in Marinwood should be considered. The impact of a highly dense development would change the community."

In addition to Marinwood Assn. and CSD representatives, nearly 20 Marinwood residents appeared to protest the high density apartments.

Dixie School District Supt. Dennis B. Willis said any increase in density would "require a new examination of existing school sites, and we probably will have to come back to the commission to ask for a new school site."

There are two elementary schools in the area now, and Willis said a seventh and eighth grade school is proposed in the master plan. He said there would be a need for another elementary school if the population is suddenly increased.

Christensen said the proposed one and two-bedroom

Clear Skies, But Clouds Gathering

Balmy weather and blue skies yesterday lured crowds to Marin County beaches and parks.

Three times the usual number of Sunday visitors, 2,768, were counted at Stinson Beach State Park where "they were doing everything," according to Park Supervisor Robert G. Carlson.

SHOOTING RAPIDS
"Everything" included swimming, surfing, sunning, picnicking and sports activities.

At Samuel Taylor State Park, 425 cars and "two or three" 50-mile hikers were counted through the park entrance yesterday, a drop from the 80 marchers who passed through the park on Saturday.

Two 14-year-old youths shot the rapids of Papermill Creek in a homemade wooden boat at the park, according to rangers.

At Muir Woods National Monument 3,139 visitors were counted, mostly in the afternoon. The parking lot was crowded, to capacity but visitors, expecting to see the salmon run, were disappointed because the dry conditions of three years ago have lessened the run to a few salmon.

RAIN FORECAST

The clear weather of today was expected to give way to cloudiness tomorrow in Marin County and rain was forecast south of Santa Rosa. The five-day forecast said rain was likely here over the weekend.

Sprinkles Saturday in Marin brought .16 of an inch of rain to Larkspur and Woodacre, .15 in Mill Valley, .12 in San Anselmo, and .11 in Novato.

LAW BOTTLES UP HIKER IN JAIL CELL

Deputy Sheriff William Bradford saw a man lying in Castro Road, just off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in the San Geronimo Valley, about 12:15 a.m. yesterday. As he pulled up in his patrol car, the man got up and staggered off the road.

Bradford asked him if he were in trouble.

No, said Raymond Frederick Luce Jr., 28, a meat cutter of 336 Hickory Lane, San Rafael—no trouble at all; he was making a 50-mile hike, and had a couple of drinks to bolster him on his route.

Bradford gave Luce a six-mile ride instead, and booked him at the county jail on a charge of drunkenness. He was later released on $26.25 bail.

Youngsters Like Hiking

Ten members of the youngsters and best organized of the 50-mile hike groups in Marin County, the Marinwood Rangers, finished their walk in 15 hours Saturday and set their sights on a 20-mile hike this weekend.

Led by head ranger William S. Lee of Novato, who heads the Lee Brothers market chain with his brothers, 10 of the rangers, whose average age is 10, finished the 50-mile hike from market in Marinwood to Nicasio, Point Reyes Station, and back again to the market at 6 p.m.

Lee said that the next hike of the rangers would be held this Saturday, a mere 20-mile walk around Mount Tamalpais. The group specializes in hiking, having logged more than 500 miles over four western states since it was organized in November of 1961.

2nd Guilty Plea Entered In Bank Theft, Robbery

Workman's Second Partner Still Sought

Jimmie Bee Workman, who was one of the Federal Bureau of Investigation's "10 most wanted men" until his capture last November, pleaded guilty today to a 1961 bank robbery and kidnappings which involved families in Larkspur and Millbrae.

Workman entered his guilty plea in the same San Francisco federal court where one of his two partners in the crime, Robert Everett Leeps, 25, pleaded guilty last month.

Conservatives Sweep To Office In Young GOP

By CHAPIN A. DAY

FRESNO—Two Marin men were elected to state office by the California Young Republicans yesterday in a conservative sweep of all major offices which placed La Canada attorney Robert A. Gaston in the state presidency.

Although neither had the support of the Marin delegation, John Clow of Mill Valley was elected national committeeman and Thomas G. Moss of Mill Valley was named executive vice president.

Both won with support of the newly elected president and the 65-man Los Angeles county delegation. Gaston, who welcomed the support of the John Birch Society, was pictured by Clow in a seconding speech as being able to "change the complexion of the Young Republicans into a working unit."

Clow defeated two opponents, John Witzel of Fresno and Bob Hinman of Sacramento. Charles Michaels of Kentfield seconded Witzel's nomination. Final vote showed 189 for Clow, 161 for Witzel, after Hinman's 50 or so votes had swung over to the Fresno man. Marin's delegation voted four for Witzel, three for Clow, with one abstaining.

Moss, who was not a delegate to the convention but present and actively campaigning, swept to victory over Clifford Majersik, past president

Right-Wing Grab Of CRA Feared

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The outgoing president of the California Republican Assembly says extreme right-wing elements are expected to try to seize control of the volunteer group next weekend.

Fred Hall, a onetime governor of Kansas who now lives in Long Beach, told an interviewer yesterday that the conservatives "will be right at our throats" when the CRA holds its annual convention Friday at Anaheim.

EDUCATION BOARD

Coach, Substitute Teacher To Run

A high school coach and a substitute high school teacher today became the first announced candidates for the San Rafael Board of Education in the April 8 municipal election.

They are Carl J. Brown, coach at Sir Francis Drake High School in the Tamalpais district and chairman of the San Rafael Recreation Commission, and Mrs. Edythe B. Tait, housewife, longtime Parent-Teacher Assn. leader, and substitute teacher.

Three positions on the five-member board are to be filled in the election. Members whose terms expire at Roderick P. Martinelli, Rex T. Silvernale, and C. Paul Bettini. None of the three has yet said whether he will seek another term.

Edythe Tait Offers Plan

Mrs. Edythe B. Tait offered a seven-point platform in declaring her candidacy for a position on the San Rafael Board of Education.

The longtime Parent-Teacher Assn. leader, who frequently attends board of education meetings, said that if elected, her aims will be:

1. "Strengthen the basic fundamentals of education."
2. "Strengthen the reading program by emphasis on the phonetic approach . . . commencing at the kindergarten level."
3. "Strengthen the English program, especially in the elementary grades. . ."
4. "Improve relations and communications among parents, teachers and administrators."
5. "Improve respect for

Carl J. Brown Seeking Post

Carl J. Brown, who is better known as "Coach" or "Red" in athletic and recreation circles, said he has "no axe to grind" in seeking a position on the board which governs both San Rafael High and Elementary School districts.

"We want the best schools available and the best teachers available to do the best teaching job for students in San Rafael schools. That's my interest," said Brown, whose daughter Linda is now a sophomore at San Rafael High. (His older daughter, now Mrs. Donald Lucas Jr., is a teacher in Dixie School District.)

Although he has been identified for many years with athletics and recreation, Brown said these would not be his primary interests on the board.

His philosophy is, he said, that "the school board should

Actor Monte Blue Dies At 76

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Monte Blue, veteran screen actor and circus press agent, died today at Deaconess Hospital, where he had been under treatment after suffering a coronary attack.

Blue, an advance man for the Hamid-Morton Circus, came to Milwaukee last week to publicize the Tripoli Shrine Circus which opens today. He collapsed Thursday.

A physician said a bad cold and a severe attack of influenza complicated the heart condition from which Blue suffered.

Blue's career in the movies dated back to the silent films. He played a variety of roles but was starred in many Westerns.

Violinist-Conductor Arrested

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Finnish-born violinist Heimo Haitto, 37, was in jail here today, his promising musical career threatened by charges he passed more than $4,000 in worthless checks.

The FBI arrested the former child prodigy in his hotel room yesterday and held him for authorities in Salem, Ore., where he had been the conductor of the Capitol Symphony Orchestra.

In 1941 he came to the U.S. with the impressive sponsorship of former President Herbert Hoover; Jan Sibelius, Finland's great composer, and Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, then U.S. minister to Norway. His concert tour raised thousands of dollars for Hoover's Finnish relief fund.

"I know why I did it," Haitto said of the checks. "I know why, but I can't tell you. Just say I was emotionally upset and it involves family troubles."

Flue Epidemic Closes Schools

Some schools closed and hospitals in several cities suspended visiting hours today in a grim effort to slow the spread of influenza.

Pneumonia-influenza deaths continued above epidemic proportions for the fifth week in figures obtained from 108 cities by the communicable disease center of the U.S. Health Service.

Outbreaks of Asian type flu were confirmed in New York, Maryland, North Carolina, Kansas, Michigan and the District of Columbia.

Smashing Victory For Brandt

BERLIN (AP)—West Berliners gave their Socialist mayor, Willy Brandt, a smashing vote of confidence yesterday in their first municipal election since the Communists built their Berlin wall.

Brandt's anti-Communist Socialists won 89 of the 140 seats in the city's new Parliament. They had 77 deputies in the 133-seat house elected four years ago.

Six Die In Crash

LIVERMORE (AP)—Two planes crashed in the Bay Area over the weekend. Six persons died in one and a lone pilot walked away unhurt from the second.

Edward J. Silva, 44, of San Leandro, was piloting a rented plane that went down Saturday with his wife, Doris, 38, and two other couples aboard. All six were found dead in the wreckage.

The others were: Terry L. Boscacci, 37, and his wife Mary Ann, 37; and Arthur L. Hoening, 52, and his wife Elsie, 50, both couples from Castro Valley.

The second crash occurred when William F. O'Keefe ended a routine approach with a wheels-up landing at the Half Moon Bay Airport.

$98 Million State Budget Cut Proposed

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The legislature's financial analyst called today for cuts in Gov. Edmund G. Brown's budget totaling 98 million dollars, including deletion of proposed increases in school aid and state salaries.

Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post said the lawmakers must trim the 3.252 billion-dollar 1963-64 state budget or face certain deficits and tax increases in 1965.

Post did not endorse Brown's plan to speed up tax collections, partly by withholding personal income taxes, but said the legislature will have to accept at least part of it even if the budget is slashed.

Warning that the cost of repaying borrowed money is mounting rapidly, he also urged that the lawmakers knock out 23.1 million dollars for construction—most of it from funds.

Moving into the heated school aid controversy, Post said he opposed any increase because most of the new 30 million dollars would go for raising teachers' salaries which already are among the highest in the nation.

Brown has come under fire from education groups who seek up to 115 million dollars in school support increases. The governor proposes raising an additional 25 million dollars by means of a countywide school tax for a total of 55 million dollars. The other plans also include the countywide tax.

Post also recommended against a 30-million-dollar pay raise for state employees, including a 5 per cent boost for University of California and state college faculties.

The analyst said the State Personnel Board, which had asked double the amount, had not proved that California's salaries were not competitive with other states and private industry.

Post's primary target was the big general fund budget, which he proposed trimming by 65.9 million dollars.

Of the remainder, 9.9 million dollars would come from special funds and 22.4 million dollars from construction and water bond funds.

Commenting on Brown's plan to raise 139 million dollars by withholding personal income taxes, speeding up collection of business taxes and ending installment-plan tax payments, Post said:

"Since the tax proposals of the governor afford essentially only a one-time pickup of revenue, the fundamental problem of fiscal balance remains unsolved."

Post noted that the narrow balance of Brown's budget depends upon both the accelerated tax collections and President John F. Kennedy's proposed federal tax cut, but "there is no certainty at this time that federal taxes will be reduced in 1963."

State operations budgets exclusive of the pay raise would be cut by 14 million dollars under Post's plan. Included would be reduction or elimination of many new programs.

Post opposed the governor's quest for $300,000 for a youth forestry program. He said the program presumably is aimed at high school dropouts, but questioned whether it would solve the problem.

Post's cuts include $2,153,167 from the operating budget of the University of California. He would slash $703,333 from state college budgets, including the governor's proposal of $500,000 for a program of faculty research.

The University's big 69.5-million-dollar construction program would be cut by 6.7 million dollars; the colleges' 58-million-dollar program would be trimmed by 13.3 million dollars.

The analyst also suggested deleting $850,000 requested by the governor for assistance to public libraries, and $584,827 for textbooks the state supplies to local school districts.

DISCRIMINATION IN BULGARIA

Communism Loses A Battle In Africa

VIENNA (AP)—Communism has lost a battle in Africa. The defeat well could influence the future course of young nations on the Dark Continent.

The battle was lost in the minds of African students who went behind the Iron Curtain and found Communist talk about the equality of man only a lure.

They are coming back with the same accusation of racial discrimination they once hurled at their white colonial masters.

Ghanaians and Ethiopians left Communist Bulgaria last week. They led what may total an estimated 350-500 African students after a series of incidents which exploded into a violent protest demonstration in Sofia.

The Africans, most of them in their 20s, told of racial abuses, forced political indoctrination, police brutality, arrests and fear of deportation. Bulgarian authorities hurriedly assured African and Western diplomats that the incidents were nothing serious.

But the young Africans, some of whom one day may guide the destinies of their nations, said on arrival in Vienna that they had learned a lesson. Some had accepted scholarships because they sympathized with communism. Others went to get a free education. Whatever their political affiliations and motives, they all seemed to have been hit where it hurt most—their dignity as colored people.

"We categorically declare that there is more racial discrimination against Negroes under communism than there could be in a capitalistic country," they said.

"We have been insulted in every possible way—we were called black monkeys and jungle people and the people spat out before us."

Political indoctrination to spread communism in Africa through Africans, was a major part of their course of study, the students said. Lectures on Marxism—Leninism and Soviet and Bulgarian party history were compulsory.

African student organizations were banned while other national groups were allowed to organize.

Africans in the Soviet Union have voiced similar grievances. Conditions in Hungary and Poland are reported better. No reliable information is available from Czechoslovakia, where large numbers of colored students are living, or from Romania.

Facilities at Sofia University and various provincial training centers were described as generally poor.

Sex Neither Good, Evil—Just Fact Of Nature, Group Of Quakers Says

LONDON (AP)—A group of Quakers said today that sex, viewed dispassionately, "is neither good nor evil—it is a fact of nature."

A report published by the Society of Friends (Quakers) home service committee said it is normal for "young men and women and with high standards of general conduct and integrity to have one or two love affairs involving sexual intercourse" before they marry.

The report, which is not an official policy statement, was prepared by 11 persons, six of them elders of the Quakers. The group included teachers, psychiatrists, an attorney and a housewife, all married except one.

The study, called "Towards a Quaker View of Sex," had as its purpose to examine historically the Christian church's attitudes to sex.

It turned down the traditional church view "with its supposition that it knows precisely what is right and what is wrong, that this distinction can be made in terms of an external pattern of behavior and that the greatest good will come only through universal adherence . . ."

"It is even more common for those who marry to have sexual intercourse before the ceremony," it said.

The reports said a morality which condemns homosexuals is not Christian because it lacks compassion. It called for a reform of laws dealing with homosexuals in conformance with the Wolfenden Report.

The Wolfenden Report, prepared for parliament in 1957, recommended that acts between consenting adults in private should not be considered a criminal offense.

Hijacked Freighter Lying Off Brazil

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (AP)—The hijacked Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui spent the night lying to near Maraca Island off the Brazilian coast as pursuing U.S. and Venezuelan warships sped toward the scene.

A U.S. Navy spokesman said what the Communist captors of the vessel were doing off the Brazilian island or why it stopped there remained a mystery. Two small boats visited the fugitive ship Sunday night but there has been no sign of movement since, the Navy said.

The U.S. Defense Department said a tracking American plane saw the 3,127-ton fugitive ship stop dead in the water suddenly off the Brazilian island about 7 p.m.

The island lies about 300 miles northwest of the Brazilian port of Belem, where the hijackers had indicated they might seek refuge.

The report from the tracking plane gave no hint of the identity of people in the boats that appeared alongside the freighter.

Communist gunmen stowed away on the Anzoategui early this week and with the help of one or more members of the crew took over the ship Wednesday after it sailed from Venezuela for New Orleans, La., and Houston, Tex.

The hijackers reportedly made the captain and most of his 35-man crew captive. President Romulo Betancourt's anti-Communist government branded the hijackers mutineers and appealed to friendly nations with forces in the Caribbean to seize the freighter.

Seizure of the vessel appeared to be part of a Communist attempt to force Betancourt to cancel a visit with President John F. Kennedy in Washington this week. Betancourt went ahead with plans to leave for Puerto Rico today and to fly on to Washington tomorrow.

Although Fidel Castro's regime offered the hijackers asylum in Cuba, the ship was located Saturday off the northeast coast of South America. It appeared to be heading for Brazil, where Portuguese rebels who seized the liner Santa Maria in 1961 found asylum.

Venezuelan destroyers sped along the South American coast, trying to intercept the Anzoategui.

The U.S. destroyers Wood and Leary sped out of Trinidad to join in the pursuit but Capt. John H. Dinneen, commander of the U.S. naval station at nearby Chaguaramas, said no orders had been received to stop and board the freighter.

Also closing in was the Gibbs, a military sea transport under charter for a scientific survey.

The Brazilian navy stood by to seize the ship if it crossed the three-mile limit.

A U.S. plane fired smoke rockets across the ship's bow Saturday in an effort to turn it toward Puerto Rico. The ship kept heading south.

U.S. Navy planes kept the freighter under constant surveillance.

Lt. Walter Bridgeman of Chicago, pilot of the P-2V plane which spotted the freighter Saturday said the search center at San Juan told him Adm. Robert Dennison, Atlantic Fleet commander, had ordered one rocket fired to see if the ship would turn.

Two Leap To Death From Span

A man and a woman became the 237th and 238th Golden Gate Bridge suicides during the weekend, while two men were taken into custody as suspected potential suicides.

First of the deaths occurred at 4:55 p.m. Saturday when Steve Louis Bossi, 39, a warehouseman from Alameda, was seen to stop his car and plunge over the east railing after sliding across the front seat and out the right door.

The body was not recovered but identification was established by papers in the car together with a suicide note addressed to Bossi's wife.

CLIMBED OVER

Marilyn J. Moss, 30, of San Francisco, was seen by Richard and Claudio Liebow of San Francisco climbing over the railing by the south tower at 1:20 p.m. yesterday.

"Don't!" Liebow shouted as the woman dove head-first off the rail, to be killed instantly when her body landed in a concrete fender moat at the tower base.

Identification was established today by the San Francisco coroner.

First of the apparent suicide attempts was at 2:45 a.m. Saturday when Eugene Noonan, Daly City teacher, was halted at the rail by California Highway Patrolmen summoned by a taxi driver who had taken him to the middle of the bridge.

"I just wanted to jump off the bridge, that's all," he told the officers. "Why don't you let me go?"

NOTE ON NAPKIN

A note written on a paper napkin, telling a woman that he loved her too much "to make your life this painful," was found in Noonan's pocket.

Carlton H. Daniels, 25, of San Francisco left a two-page suicide note against the windshield of his car parked on a bridge approach. Patrolmen overtook him on the bridge, confirmed that the car was his. Then Daniels tried to run away.

Both Noonan and Daniels were put under observation at San Francisco General Hospital.

Accident Unit Names Marinite

J. William Beard, 640 Hillary Drive, Tiburon, has been named chairman of the State Industrial Accident Commission by Gov. Edmund G. Brown, according to a commission announcement today.

Beard, who has served on the commission since Jan. 15, 1961, is a graduate of Southwestern Law School, Los Angeles. He served as deputy district attorney in Imperial County for three years until he was elected to the state senate in 1955. He served one term as senator prior to his appointment.

Beard and his wife, Ann, have four children, Caroline, Joseph, William and Paul.

GIRL LOCKED IN FOOD STORE DIDN'T EAT

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Judy Taylor, 8, locked overnight in a food store, said she was hungry but didn't eat anything because "I didn't want to get in trouble."

More than 100 persons searched for Judy after she failed to return home Saturday night. She was found by the store manager yesterday morning.

Why didn't Judy telephone home?

"I didn't have a dime," she explained.

Coast Guard Hunts For Three Missing On Boat

Search for three missing El Cerrito men who went on a fishing trip Saturday in a 16-foot boat centered today on an area from Point San Pedro through the Golden Gate and northward to Bodega Bay.

A Coast Guard aircraft was combing the area 30 miles out to sea in hope of spotting Charles Wheeler, 46, a policeman; Alex Lissoway, 51, a fire department lieutenant, and Merle M. Roach, 53, a service station attendant.

The men started out from a Richmond boat yard early Saturday in Wheeler's boat, powered by a 100-horsepower outboard motor. Wheeler's wife, Anna, told the Coast Guard the men frequently went outside the bay to go salmon fishing.

Coast Guard patrol boats yesterday searched bay and ocean. The cutters Taney and Dexter also joined the search. Air craft went as far north as Bodega Bay.

Ross School Room On Agenda

The Ross School District board will discuss the need for additional classrooms, along with viewing an architect's preliminary plans for the project, at its meeting at 8 p.m. today.

Supt. Donald D. Leister, who was instructed by the board to look into the need for extra classrooms at its last meeting, said yesterday that he would recommend that four additional classrooms be built.

"If four more classrooms are built, a bond issue will be needed," he said.

Consideration of the budget, school responsibility for treatment of accident victims, use of school buildings and civil defense procedures are also on the agenda.

Row Of Utility Poles Will Remain On Third

That row of utility poles will remain in the middle of San Rafael's Third Street where it is being widened from Union Street to Embarcadero.

Mayor John F. McInnis said today that a meeting of representatives of the city public

Fox Theater Taken Apart By Buyers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Fox Theater, a garish 5-million-dollar monument to an age of wonderful nonsense—the 1920s—was being taken apart today piece by piece by throngs of curious buyers.

Everything inside—even the signs on the rest rooms of the lavishly furnished lounges—went on sale after Saturday night's farewell party of 5,000 paying participants.

An upholsterer, Stanley Mical, unscrewed the seats in the orchestra. He said the state of California had purchased 1,500 for the auditorium of the prison for women at Corona.

Douglas Hickling paid $500 apiece for two swinging doors, each monogrammed "F." The labor relations consultant planned to install them in his own private basement theater.

Keith Rockwell and some associates bought the theater box office and 325 loge seats to use in a new cabaret theater, to be called "The Little Fox."

The men's and women's rest room signs were grabbed up for $15 each.

"They were literally fighting each other for them," said Bill Childress, one of the salesmen for the Homer A. Arons Building Wrecking Co., of West Sacramento.

Before tearing down the 10-story theater to make way for a 32-story office building on upper Market street, Arons invested $250,000 in the theater and furnishings. He'll try to sell everything he can before the wrecking starts in three weeks.

The glittering theater opened June 28, 1929, with Will Rogers as master of ceremonies and Hollywood stars on hand by the scores. Four months later the Great Depression sounded the knell of its slow death.

Planners To Meet

Planning commission denial of a use permit to allow Heath Land Co. to build a 114-unit apartment house in Marinship is to be appealed to the Sausalito City Council at its meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow. The request was denied by a 4-3 vote, the planners saying density was too high.

EXCITEMENT

is part of every Long Distance telephone call. Wouldn't it be exciting to hear the voice tonight of someone you haven't seen for a while? Exciting for them, too. And it's low-priced excitement when you call at nighttime station-to-station rates. Remember, nothing says you like your voice.

Pacific Telephone

works department, Pacific Gas and Electric Co. and Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. had resulted in decision to let the poles remain, because placing utility lines underground now would result in delay of four to six months in the street widening project.

But, said the mayor, the row of poles eventually will be camouflaged by trees to be planted in the divider strip.

Underground laterals are being installed so that no service poles will be necessary on the canal side of Third Street, the mayor said. The electric and telephone companies have agreed to remove the two rows of poles which now run on both sides of the street.

Mayor McInnis promised that steps will be taken to assure that utilities be placed underground as the widening of San Pedro Road (extension of Third Street) is continued. The present project involves less than a half-mile of the street.

Complaints arose from the San Rafael Improvement Club, San Rafael Beautiful Committee and various citizens when the new role of poles made its appearance two weeks ago. The project was temporarily halted while engineers discussed whether anything could be done to eliminate the poles.

Apartment Plan Before Hub Unit

An application for a use permit to build a 20-unit apartment building at Park Way and Ancha Vista Avenue by Clude Building Associates Inc. will be considered by the San Anselmo Planning Commission today at its 8 p.m. meeting.

An application by Ray Nolan for a permit to construct two seven-unit apartment buildings on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard between El Cerrito Avenue and Cordone Drive is also on the agenda.

A public hearing will be held on rezoning portions of property on San Anselmo Avenue, from Center Boulevard to Oak Knoll Avenue, from commercial to residential.

Students To Sign Up For Art Classes

Seventh and eighth grade students at Brookside School in San Anselmo are eligible to register for art classes at 3:30 p.m. March 7 at the school's multi-purpose room, it was announced today by Mrs. Charles F. Matheny Jr.

Other seventh and eighth graders in the San Anselmo district will be accepted if there is enough room. Instructor for the class will be Troy Ruddick.

SMASHED IN FOUR-CAR CRASH SERIES — Michelle Mauroni, 21 months old, was critically injured when thrown out of back seat of this car as it was driven against guard rail on Puerto Suello Hill in four-car accident last evening. (Independent-Journal photo)

21-Month-Old Girl Seriously Hurt In Four-Car Puerto Suello Wreck

A 21-month-old girl suffered major head injuries and four adults were hurt less seriously in a four-car melee at 6:25 p.m. yesterday on Puerto Suello Hill.

Little Michelle Mauroni, who was thrown out of a car driven by her father, Fred Carl Mauroni, 24, of 57 Shell Road, Mill Valley, was in satisfactory condition today at Marin General Hospital.

Her father, a carpenter, was treated for a broken nose and cuts and bruises. Her mother, Mrs. Diane M. Mauroni, 21, suffered a possible nose fracture and bruises of face, head and chest. Matras Sanchez, railroad welder at Willits, Mendocino County, declined hospitalization for minor hurts but his wife was treated for cuts and bruises at San Rafael General Hospital.

The sequence of accidents started when Sanchez' two-door sedan, northbound near the turnoff to Santa Venetia, was struck from behind by a convertible driven by Robert J. Peterson of 430 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

This knocked the Sanchez car to the right and it squeezed a sedan driven by Mauroni against the guard rail. The Sanchez sedan rebounded across the northbound lanes and the divider to strike the left rear of a station wagon driven by Roland E. Pierce of Santa Clara.

The Mauroni child, riding in the back seat, was the only person thrown out.

A San Francisco woman spent Saturday night in San Rafael General Hospital with a lump on her head after she was thrown from a car in a freeway accident north of Belle Avenue.

Carolyn Gore, 23, who was released from the hospital yesterday morning, was riding apartments would be aimed at "people in their mid-forties and over." He said they would "not be second class citizens," and monthly rentals would start at $200.

"Although it will not be a senior citizen community," Christensen said, "it will not generate school problems or community problems. It will in fact broaden Marinwood's tax base."

Planning director B. D. Dobbs, also a Marinwood resident, said there should eventually be multiple dwellings in Marinwood, but "Marinwood deserves something better than run-of-the-mill multiple density, and density should be considerably lower than that recommended by the developers."

"Is the master plan for the homeowner or for the builder?" asked Marinwood CSD director Glenn Tobias. "I guess initially it is to help both, but we have come 25 miles from the city to get away from high density."

The commission's approval of reduced density apartments will go to the board of supervisors Feb. 26 for setting of dates for further public hearing.

Bones Of Human Found On Shore

Efforts were continuing today to identify an apparently male pelvis, thigh bones and section of vertebrae found on the Point Reyes beach near the lighthouse Saturday. The discovery was made by Mrs. Mary Drew McGrew, who lives on a nearby ranch.

Pathologists will require several days to report on such points as the length of time since death, according to the coroner's office.

Meanwhile it was thought possible the bones might be those of an Alcatraz escapee of last June 8, one of several Golden Gate Bridge suicides whose bodies weren't recovered, or fisherman Ignatius Cefalu who was lost off the Golden Gate Jan. 24.

with Carmen Jeanne Zapfe, 24, of Sebastopol, who highway patrolman said lost control of her northbound car, clipped two other cars and knocked out a newly planted center divider post when she braked suddenly for slow traffic.

The other drivers were Frank Kennard Collins, 30, of 1255 Palma Drive, Novato, and Albert Robert Jennings, 33, of Mountain View.

A Novato youth, Dave Costello, 17, of 1 Tyler Street, suffered abrasions, bruises and a sprain of the left knee Saturday when the car in which he was riding slid out of control on a muddy corner at 1910 Indian Valley Road.

Driver Robert Kenneth Henshawwood Jr., 17, of 1149 East Court Street, Novato, told the California Highway Patrol that when he tried to correct for the skid, Costello was thrown against him, causing him to lose control of the car and land in a ditch.

Costello was treated at Novato Hospital.

Kenneth E. Foster of San Francisco was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut scalp Saturday afternoon as result of a skid as he drove north on Highway 101 a quarter-mile north of the Waldo Tunnel at 1:45 p.m.

The patrol cited him on a charge of operating an unsafe vehicle because of smooth tires which "let go" as he entered a curve, causing the car to spin and break out 10 feet of guard rail.

Mother Of Three Booked For Neglect

A Novato mother of three children, aged 3, 5, and 10, was booked into Marin County jail on child neglect charges after police found her children unattended Saturday.

T/Sgt. Franklin Carson McWilliams, 31, was told by an unidentified person at 1:30 a.m. that his estranged wife, Vernie Lee McWilliams, 28, had left their children unattended since 10 p.m. in the home at 1265 San Jose Boulevard.

McWilliams, who had been ordered by the court to stay away from the house, asked Sgt. Floyd Hollowell of the Novato police to accompany him.

Hollowell reported the front door was partially open and the children were asleep in two beds. He said there was very little food in the house.

Thomas Estes of the Marin County Juvenile Department placed the children in the juvenile hall.

Mrs. McWilliams returned home at 4 a.m. She was arrested, with bail set at $525.

Simulated Search For Bandits

About 15 members of the Mounted Sheriff's Posse joined forces with the Sheriff's Patrol yesterday to "capture" four "bandits" in a simulated search in the Fairfax hills above Sleepy Hollow.

Playing the role of "bank robbers" who stole a plane and crashed in the hills were Sheriff's Capt. Sidney Stinson, Sgt. Kenneth Irving, and Deputies Ernest Nielsen and Edward Koehn.

Capt. Bob Gillespie and Deputy Arthur Wiggins headed the air patrol, which had four planes in the air to spot the "crash scene" and the bandits who fled on foot. They kept radio contact with the mounted posse, headed by Capt. Oscar Montgomery and Deputy Wade Powell.

The mounted posse captured the fugitives after a two-hour search in the wilds of Fairfax. Nielsen, Irving and Koehn were nabbed in ditches, and Captain Stinson in a tree.

The joint search was another in a series of training maneuvers conducted by Sheriff Louis P. Montanos.

"There are a few spots to be ironed out," said Captain Stinson. "But the joint air-ground search was a success."

For 18 years he has officiated at football and basketball games in the North Bay area. He has managed Little League baseball teams in San Rafael and adult baseball and basketball teams in both Vallejo and San Rafael. He played both baseball and basketball in high school and on town teams in both cities. He and his wife, Kelma, and daughter, Linda, live at 7 Longwood Drive.

Car Driver Rescued By Airman

An airman from Hamilton Air Force Base last evening rescued the driver from a car which had overturned in a pond beside Highway 48 near the Leslie Salt Works in Solano County.

A/1c Richard W. Guy of the Maintenance Control Squadron, 78th Fighter Wing, who lives on the base, was headed home at 5:30 p.m. when he saw a Ford station wagon slither off the road and overturn in the pond. The car submerged except for the wheels showing above the water.

Guy stopped, dived in, and pried open the door to free the driver, John Forrest Brown, 27, a Vallejo television salesman. Brown was too groggy to say whether anyone else was in the car so Guy dived back into the water to make a further search. He found no one else.

Brown revived subsequently, after arrival of the California Highway Patrol. He suffered no injury, the patrol reported.

Coincidentally, Senior M/Sgt. William Endicott of the 78th Fighter Wing today was presented the Air Force commendation medal at Hamilton for saving the life of a truck driver whose vehicle went off the Black Point Cutoff into water last July. Base officials said the circumstances of the rescue by Guy were virtually identical with those which won the medal for Sergeant Endicott.

San Jose Summer School Plans On Tap

Plans for summer school will be presented to San Jose school district trustees meeting at 8 o'clock tonight in the district's administration building at Hamilton Air Force Base.

The proposal for San Jose, Novato, Dixie and San Rafael school districts to hire the consultant firm of Booz, Allen and Hamilton to make a study of redistricting is also to be taken up again. Novato and Dixie boards have approved the proposal.

She is president of the San Rafael unit of the American Field Service student exchange program and of the University of California at Los Angeles Scholarship Award Committee; and a past president of P-TA motion picture councils of both Marin and Berkeley, and a former member of the Marin Council of Community Services.

She served on the San Rafael Citizen Advisory Committee on Recreation, and on the San Rafael Schools Curriculum Study Committee. On the latter, she was one of a minority of five who sharply criticized the teaching of social studies and English and contended the committee was improperly constituted and subjected to "personal intimidation" by school officials.

Mrs. Tait was born in Somerset, Pa. She has a B.A. degree and secondary teaching credential from UCLA and an M.A. degree from University of Southern California. She serves as a substitute teacher in high schools in San Rafael and other nearby districts.

She and her husband, Walter J., supervisor of training for Standard Oil Co. of California in San Francisco, reside at 71 Lochinvar Road. Their only child, a daughter now married, was graduated from San Rafael High School.

Marin City Man, 87, Cut With Knife

An 87-year-old Marin City man, who suffered several knife punctures in his left chest yesterday, told sheriff's investigators he had fallen on a butcher knife at his home.

Charles Brigham Young of House C-37, apartment 291, was treated at San Rafael General Hospital.

Deputy Sheriff James L. Current, called to the home about 4 p.m., found Young lying on his bed, bleeding from several punctures on his chest.

The victim's son, Charles Young Jr., said he found his father lying on the bedroom floor bleeding. He told investigators his father has not been well for some time and cannot walk, and had indicated several times that he does not wish to live any longer.

Goldwater Asks Cuba Blockade

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.), today proposed a total blockade of Cuba and accused the Kennedy administration of doing nothing to promote bipartisanship.

His criticism of the administration was answered at once by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana who said Republican Congressional leaders had been given 40 White House briefings on foreign policy in the last two years.

Goldwater, a major general in the Air Force Reserve, called for a "blockade of all shipments of any kind to Castro's Cuba."

He offered it in a scorching reply to weekend charges by foreign relations chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.), that GOP critics of administration foreign policy were guilty of irresponsible and intemperate accusations.

NOT ON FLOOR
Mansfield answered Goldwater because Fulbright was not on the floor at the time. Republicans, said Mansfield, are "not supposed to remain silent" on foreign policy but should offer constructive criticism that "will not bring about divisiveness in the nation."

Goldwater said he was making this blockade proposal "fully realizing that the timid souls along the new frontier will raise their arms in horror and insist that Goldwater wants to get us into war."

The Arizona Republican said Fulbright's attack yesterday "had all the earmarks of an action hastily ordered by the White House in line with the current campaign to shut up all critics of the new frontier's short-sighted and disruptive foreign policy and in particular to silence all Republican opposition."

'NEVER CONSULTED'
Replying to a plea by Fulbright for non-partisanship in foreign affairs, Goldwater said, "Republicans are never consulted on New Frontier foreign policy decisions before they are made. And I see no indication that the New Frontier's leaders in congress are doing anything to further non-partisanship."

Mansfield replied that the Republicans "have been very well informed by this administration. I have no apology to offer for this administration."

Frightening Asthma Attacks End In Minutes As New Formula Unblocks Lung Passages Fast

New Medical Formula Restores Free Breathing Without Vaccines, Shots Or Narcotics. Calms Anxiety. No Prescription Needed.

New York, N.Y. (Special)—A team of scientists has announced a new formula that stops frightening asthma attacks in minutes and unblocks lung passages fast.

Medical tests prove this formula promptly restores free breathing, so calms anxiety and relieves the worst symptoms of asthma—the straining for breath, the gasping, the wheezing, the terrible fear of suffocation. All without vaccines, painful shots or habit-forming drugs. This formula is so safe when used as directed, it can be sold without prescription in tiny tablets called BRONTIN®.

Doctors know that when asthma strikes, breathing tubes become swollen, lung passages become blocked, so air is "trapped" inside lungs and less and less oxygen can enter. Now BRONTIN, with two asthma relieving medicines that doctors prescribe for their patients, acts quickly to open bronchial tubes and loosen the mucus that blocks lung passages. Trapped air is released and new vital oxygen enters the lungs.

The result is: free breathing is restored, tension eased and so fears are calmed in minutes. Sufferers can now look forward to restful sleep. Get BRONTIN—available at all drug stores without prescription.

Little Danger Of Cuba Reds Seen Now

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A top State Department official said today Latin America faces great dangers from Communist subversion but "no country now seems likely to succumb in the foreseeable future."

Assistant Secretary of State Edwin M. Martin told Congress-sional investigators that "headway is being made to reduce the influence and capabilities of Cuba and the (Communists) bloc and in controlling local subversive activities of all kinds in each country."

"Further deterioration of the prestige and influence of the present regime in Cuba, and its eventual replacement by a government freely chosen by the Cuban people, will contribute materially to reducing the threat but will not eliminate it," Martin said.

The assessment was given to a House foreign affairs sub-

The boys were to be charged with possession of alcoholic beverages and contributing to the delinquency of minors, police said. The girls were to be cited to the juvenile department.

A car containing four boys ages 15 to 18 was stopped en route to the dance, and police found some beer in it. One 18-year-old was booked for possession of alcoholic beverages and three younger boys were cited to juvenile authorities.

San Rafael Mayor McInnis Elected President Of Bay Government Group

Mayor John F. McInnis of San Rafael was elected president of the Assn. of Bay Area Governments at its annual meeting in Berkeley Saturday. He succeeds Ralph H. Mehrkens, chairman of the Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors.

McInnis was vice president last year. Kent D. Pursel, chairman of the Alameda County Board of Supervisors, was elected to that office for the new year.

The association went on record in support of a bill by State Sen. J. Eugene McAteer (D-San Francisco) for a four-million-dollar regional transportation study in the nine Bay counties, to be directed by a committee including representatives of cities and counties. The association's transportation committee assisted McAteer in preparation of the bill.

It voted also to apply to the Housing and Home Finance Agency for federal assistance in a regional planning study which would be undertaken in connection with the transportation study. This, said McInnis, chairman of the regional planning committee, would include land use, recreation, waste disposal, etc.

Proposed minimum standards for fall out shelters by the uniform standards committee headed by Vice Mayor Harold Feyge of Pacifica were adopted. McInnis said requests for these standards have already come to ABAG from various parts of the United States.

William L. Slayton, commissioner of the Urban Renewal Administration, in the meeting's principal speech praised the work of ABAG and said the federal government recognizes a need to "federalize" local governments on a regional basis and deplores attempts to establish regional "super-governments."

The association adopted a budget of $34,970 for the next fiscal year, presented by McInnis as finance chairman.

Bicycling Group In Motion

About 35 men, women, boys and girls met in Corte Madera yesterday and formed a group tentatively titled the Marin Cyclist, the organizers, Kenneth Potter and Norman Nock, reported today.

"We had people from as young as a boy of 11 to a man of about 50 and made our first trip yesterday," said Potter of 105 Sonoma Way, Corte Madera, an artist who had about two years experience in touring and racing cycling in France and Italy.

Co-captain of the group, which has not yet picked officers, is Norman Nock of 150 Granada Drive, Corte Madera, proprietor of British and German Car Service in San Francisco. Nock, a native of England, has had about 18 years of touring and competition cycling experience.

Potter reported the group will meet each Saturday at 1 p.m. for short training rides and 9:30 a.m. each Sunday for longer rides.

South won the first trick with the ace of hearts and led back the queen of diamonds.

GOOD PLAY
This was a good play in an obscure sort of way. If South had drawn trumps immediately he would be in trouble if East then showed up with four clubs headed by the jack.

At any rate, the play showed evidence of thought, so I nodded approvingly when South looked back to see what the kibitzers thought.

West took his ace of diamonds and continued with the nine of hearts. East won and led a third heart, forcing dummy to ruff.

So far, so good. South was still in position to make his contract, but he found a bookish way to go down.

Dummy's trumps were the J-6 at this moment, and South remembered reading in a book that you lead the jack from this combination to unblock the suit.

QUITE TRUE
This is quite true if you're just sitting around playing a routine hand. From K-6 you lead the king, from Q-6 you lead the queen, and so on. This allows you to win later tricks in your own hand without using up entries in other suits.

Unfortunately, this was not a routine hand. When declarer led the jack of spades from dummy, East won with the ace of spades and led a fourth heart. Now there was no way to shut out West's ten of spades.

South would make his contract if he led the six of spades.

Creeping Inflation Warning As Valid As Six Years Ago

The other day we ran across a yellowing clipping which was dated Friday, June 14. No year mentioned. With June 14 falling on Friday this year, however, the clipping probably is six years old.

"LOS ANGELES, June 13," it started. "Creeping inflation is just as harmful to the economy as the galloping kind—it just takes a little longer."

It quoted Dr. Neil H. Jacoby, dean of the Graduate School of Business Administration at UCLA, who had written an article for the Harvard Business Review. He declared that "one of the most pervasive current ideas is that a slow rise in price levels is harmless or even beneficial, and should therefore be sought or at least tolerated by the government."

The feeling of injustice and mistrust, the weakening of the fabric of democracy, and the economic inefficiency which result from inflation do not change their character just because the inflation is slow, Dean Jacoby said. They are merely of a lesser degree—"for the time being."

"Those who think that a slow rise in price levels is harmless because of the 'floors' our economy has built under its prices and incomes—such as farm price supports and unemployment insurance—are forgetting how rapidly time passes," the former member of President Eisenhower's Council of Economic Advisors said.

"A two per cent annual rise, compounded, doubles the price level every 35 years. A three per cent annual rise doubles prices every 23 years and cancels out completely the real return from United States Savings Bonds."

Thus as citizens come to know that their government is accepting a slow but steady depreciation of the dollar, Dean Jacoby said, more and more of them will become aware that they are losing real purchasing power by holding insurance policies, saving bonds, bank deposits, and other dollar assets.

"Increasingly," he said, "they will bid up the prices of real estate, commodities, and equities until what began as 'creeping' inflation will become 'running' inflation."

It seemed appropriate to us, in these days of plans to reduce taxes but increase spending, that Dean Jacoby's warning be repeated.

Music Of Laughing Water

During most of the year the only running water the average Marinite sees or hears is in his bathroom or kitchen or from his garden hose. A couple of minor creeks, like Paper Mill and Corte Madera, provide a bit of the music of laughing water the year round, but not much.

We don't miss it long, however. Following a hearty winter or spring rain in our exuberant county, every avenue becomes a brook and every street a stream. Splashing water gurgles past the bedroom window in its haste to mate with the saline sea of the Bay.

There is no better lullaby than the sound of rushing water. It strikes a primitive chord. Perhaps we dredge up subconscious, Jungian memories of ages past when you and I shared a comfortable cave by a brook and hunted mastadon together.

Splashing water arouses feelings of contentment and pleasurable relaxation. Our ancient ancestors probably welcomed the music of laughing water with sighs of relief. For them it was a miracle. For us, we hope it doesn't come with a high tide.

One Of Life's Little Ordeals Is The Problem Of Ice Cubes

NEW YORK (AP)—One of life's little ordeals is the problem of ice cubes.

Looking back across my cross-gained past, it is no trouble at all for me to see why I changed from an eager, hopeful youth into a sour and cynical curmudgeon, aged before his prime.

It was ice cubes that did it. It seems to me that I have spent the best years of my life dealing with ice cubes.

It didn't seem to be much of a task to my father. When he wanted a lemonade, he chipped his requirements from a large chunk of ice in the ice box.

Then along came civilization—and with it the refrigerator.

It is perhaps unwise to claim that our family had the original American refrigerator. But it is certainly true that we got the world's laziest one—and the world's noisiest.

Clank, clank, clank! There never was a secret drinker in our home. The neighbors had no need for a hearing aid.

First a man would develop a thirst. Then he would adjust the gears of the refrigerator. Three days later the ice was ready.

Naturally, by then the ice tray was stuck to the bottom of the freezing area.

But that wasn't really too much of a worry. You could either try to pull out the ice tray by main force, or to wedge the tray out with a table knife. At least you had a choice.

Once you removed the ice tray from the refrigerator, the task became much simpler. All you had to do then was to get the ice cubes from the ice tray.

We employed one of two simple techniques. We could bang the ice tray against the sink, or hold the tray under the hot water faucet.

Then a couple of fragments of tired ice would tumble out. We would put this small crystal reward into the guest's glass. After a preliminary sip, he would sigh and say, "My, that tastes good. But could I have a mite more ice?"

Those were in the old days. Since then, of course, we have bought a new automated refrigerator.

There is no trouble at all in removing the ice tray. And the ice cubes are separated only by a plastic material. All we have to do is bend the plastic, and out pop the cubes.

The trouble here is that you can't tell where the ice cubes will squirt.

THE BEST solution we have found for the ice cube problem is to join a club which once a year has cut-rate round trips to England.

We fly with our guests to jolly old London, and take them into the nearest pub.

"NOW YOU wouldn't be expecting ice in your drinks now, would you?" the host inquires despondently.

"Yes, indeed," we tell him firmly.

Well, since the English never throw anything away, he searches around in his cupboard-of-boredom until he finds a few ice fragments left over from the Elizabethan era and plops them into the glasses. The result: a perfect drink.

No Phone Service For Nine Days

EDITOR, Independent-Journal:

This letter sent today (Feb. 12) to Pacific Telephone. What defense do we and other subscribers have against such indifferent service?

Pacific Telephone Co.
San Rafael

We have suffered quietly the indignities put upon us by your digit dialing, and we tried to understand when our phone was out of service for NINE DAYS, beginning the stormy night of Jan. 29. Your man said it would take several days to restore service, so we waited patiently.

After all, we understand that many other phones are more important and necessary than ours. Our patience was a bit thin. I will admit, when we found that you had simply FORGOTTEN to come back and hook us up again.

The problem and complaint, however, is what you did while the phone was out of order. During the nine days that the line was down, many friends and relatives tried to call us, including some from distant states. Some tried at close intervals over a period of three or four days.

What did they hear? Yes, a normal ringing sound, as though the phone were in order and we were not answering. Knowing that I would normally be at home with a small one and a schoolboy, they were terribly concerned. So, they asked the assistance of your operator(s), only to be told that the phone was in order as far as the operator(s) knew, and that no further check could be made.

Come now, gentlemen, surely after your crew has inspected the broken line you should have some faint clue that the phone was out of order.

We certainly do not complain that your lines were down, but feel that it was very poor public service not to tell interested callers when they requested assistance. You send a recorded message when a phone is out of service for non-payment or change,

Child Care Center Wonderful Service

EDITOR, Independent-Journal:

As a working mother, my primary concern is with the emotional and intellectual development of my two preschool children, while I am at work.

Thus I hope you will give me the opportunity to praise the Marin City child care center, branch of the Sausalito School District, for the wonderful service it is offering our county.

It is not a widely known and publicized service, yet its program is unique: it includes training in finger and brush painting, caring for two white rats, daily rest period, hot lunches, snacks and most important of all the dedicated and selfless care the children receive there.

All children over 2 years old are welcome and the fee is proportional to means.

I know that many mothers in the county are looking just for this kind of care and do not know where to turn.

Thank you for them and myself.

Senior Citizens' Walking Club?

EDITOR,

Independent-Journal:

Headlines! Headlines! The ball, passed by the Marines to the President, who threw a pitch to the nation. High school and college students, Army, Air Force, Marines (what happened to the Navy) accepted the challenge and started hiking. Teddy Roosevelt, of the "Big-stick," wrote a letter, which sparked this craze.

Nostalgic memories of a gang of kids from the West side of New York City skating to Central Park, Columbus Circle to 110th Street, to Fifth Avenue, to Fifty-ninth Street, to Central Park West. Home, a reprimand. Late for supper again!

Taking the Weehawken Ferry to West New York, up the Palisades, past the spot where Hamilton met his enemy, Aaron Burr; then skating along the west side of the Hudson River, past Fort Lee, New Jersey, down the Palisades to the 125th Street Ferry; back along Riverside Drive to 72nd Street, and home for the usual reprimand and late supper.

Later the big hike, after the Argonne and the Armistice, from France to Belgium, to Luxembourg, to Germany, started Nov. 20, ended about Dec. 24, 1918. Twenty or more miles each day with a welcome week's rest in Luxembourg; equipment a full marching pack, Springfield rifle, plus 110 rounds of ammunition; weight felt like 500 pounds, perhaps 90 pounds or more. What sore feet and those darn socks what Susie knitted!

Now retired, with time to spare. But how about a Senior Citizens Walking Club? Once a week, perhaps a few miles for warming up, gradually stepping up—maybe we could make the 50, throw out our chests and tell our lopsided world we Senior Citizens are still in the Big Parade.

Will This Be Last Winter For Puddletown In Marin City?

In most places when it rains, the water runs away. When it rains in "Mudville" in Marin City, the water puddles.

It has been this way for many years because, as everyone knows, "it is only a temporary town."

Truly, the Housing Authority and Redevelopment Agency did the unusual in shuffling the residents off the hills into the flats and back into the high rise "battleships" so they would not have to leave the area.

And, according to plan, this will be the last winter the people in the flats will live in the mud.

Each winter we visit Puddletown, cross the board and telephone pole bridges, and knock on the doors to ask what the living is like.

HERE IS A WORLD APART. A crumbling village where the streets have no names, houses have no yards, a never-never land where you reach your apartment by boots, bridge or community porch. It's incredible.

Knocking at the first door, we found Henry Mitchell reading his paper, his wife cooking supper. "It's not bad now," said Mitchell. "We were marooned just before Christmas, surrounded by water."

Leroy Spigner, who lives next to what looks like a river channel, said the water was up to his second porch step last week. He used boots and carried his family to the car, walked from car to house on three old car seats, a board and some small bridges.

"They are trying to freeze the people out," said Henry Morris. "They haven't tried to do anything about the mud."

Lee Brown of Building C-25, Apt. 189, said: "Last year it was worse. I had to move my car to keep it from getting flooded." Mrs. Matthew Howell said the high water makes the car brakes go out. "In the last rain I broke my muffler," said Jesse Polk.

"It's worse this year," said Roy Price, standing in the mud fixing his car. "It's worse because of the fill and the plugged drains," said William Scroggin.

TEEN-AGER Mack Henry Page III said his dad put a garbage can over the manhole near their house to keep the manhole cover, which is wood, from floating away, and to mark the manhole so his mother would know where it was when she drove home from work.

"I call it the Mississippi mud flats," said Mamieray T. Judson, owner of the Depot Cafe. "I had a flat tire one morning and had no way to get to work but to wade. I got me a stick to be sure I wouldn't step where it was too deep."

"We're scared of the manholes. Hardy Westmore Jr. fell in one up to his arms but he was lucky. He happens to be tall and caught hold of a telephone post. The top had washed away." Mrs. Judson said there was water standing under her cafe at the moment.

We watched Mamieray serve two plates high with French fries to Ronnie Striplin, 14, and young Page, then left the cafe and drove over a ditch of water.

On paved road, we noted the new development with its sound and sturdy buildings, green lawns and playground equipment, all puddleless. Next winter, we said, no Mudville.

THE REASON James A. Thompson of Mill Valley wears a brown Tyrolean hat, he says, is because "I don't want to wear a beret or jockey's cap or Mexican sombrero."

Jimmie Quinn said he washed his face in port wine before going to last week's chamber of commerce annual whirl. "It opens up the pores of the skin," said Quinn.

Rockefeller Shaping His Image

To Contrast Himself With Kennedy

WASHINGTON—Nearly everybody has been wondering when and how Gov. Nelson Rockefeller would go after the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

The answers are now becoming visible. They are being supplied by Rockefeller's actions and words.

The governor is embarked on a carefully conceived tactic designed to win Republican conservatives without alienating Republican liberals. He is making himself his party's most vigorous, persistent, outspoken critic of the Kennedy administration.

He is hard at it—a year and a half before nominating convention. He is increasingly speaking out on national issues.

HE HASN'T QUITE tossed his hat in the ring, but he has it in his extended hand, aimed in that direction. He says it is a little too early for the party to commit itself to a candidate, but his political agents are busy in the delegate vineyard.

Rockefeller's strategy is well adapted to what he must accomplish. He must hold his liberal supporters and simultaneously prove that he merits the backing of a substantial number of GOP conservatives. He can't do it by being tricky; he can't afford to say opposite things to opposite groups.

His SOLUTION is logical, and he is carrying it out with skill. His position as a progressive and an activist governor is well known. He does not need to do any selling on that point, at least not for the present. Hence he is free to devote himself almost exclusively to pointing out the major differences between President Kennedy and himself—differences in view which would mean a real difference in the conduct of the presidency.

He is seeking to demonstrate to Republican conservatives whose support he will need that a Rockefeller administration in Washington would not be a Kennedy administration under a Republican label.

When you look over everything Rockefeller has said on national matters since his second inaugural last month, it adds up to a formidable attack on what he sees as the shortcomings and failures of President Kennedy.

"In the space of two months," Rockefeller remarked at a press conference in Chicago, "the United States has been embroiled in heated and public controversy with Great Britain on the Skybolt issue, with Canada on nuclear defense, and with France on the organization of Europe."

"In less than a year the American government has also publicly quarreled with Chancellor Adenauer over negotiations in Berlin and has affronted the Netherlands by placing expediency over principle in West New Guinea."

THERE ARE OTHER Rockefeller criticisms on weakening our requirements for a test-ban treaty, on Cuba, on "management of the news," on economic growth, unemployment, civil rights and taxes.

Will this tactic of making himself the Republican critic-in-chief of the Kennedy administration serve Mr. Rockefeller's political objective during the coming months? It will have a very good chance if he keeps his criticisms central, significant, and reasoned. So far he has done so.

Dark Confident Giants Can Repeat With Same Lineup

By OSCAR FRALEY

MIAMI (UPI)—The writer had to haunt Alvin Dark, manager of the San Francisco Giants, so finishing third in the baseball players as he sought a record fifth victory didn't upset him too much.

There still is in him the memory of having two men in scoring position and big Willie McCovey at the plate, lashing savagely at Ralph Terry's fast ball. The ball was belted solidly.

But little Bobby Richardson threw up his hands, almost in self defense, to make the final out in the World Series, and the Cinderella Giants went down to defeat as they were obliterated on the very brink of victory.

"I was proud of the way we played," said Dark as he hustled off from Miami to Phoenix to start another spring training. "It was the breaks that beat us."

But the quiet, hawk-faced

Dark figures that his Giants will make it back into the Series again this year and this time will redeem themselves.

"We have a good ball club," he said as he peeled off his golf shoes and headed for the airport. "We had a good one last season and we're going with the same one, or almost the same one, anyhow."

There is little change in the Giant personnel which he will direct in spring training.

"All I've got to do is get them in shape," he asserted. "We'll stick with the same lineup. It was good enough to win the last time, so why not now? I don't see any reason why it can't."

There was talk, at the end of last season, that Orlando Cepeda, the man with all the muscles, couldn't go the distance demanded. And, maybe, that wondrous Willie Mays was reaching the slow-down stage in a fabulous career.

Dark regards this as sheer nonsense.

"Cepeda simply played too much ball," he insisted. "He played in the winter league and then our longer season was too much for anybody. But this time he comes in rested and refreshed. He'll be a different ball player."

"As for Mays," he added, "he was phenomenal all year. Nobody keeps it up forever, but Willie is a long way from tailing off."

Dark holds no brief for those who entertain a thought that the Giants "lucked in" with their playoff victory over the Dodgers to earn the right to face the Yankee in the Series.

"We won it," he grinned, at the memory, "and while nobody ever knows what will happen, I don't see why we can't win it again."

There is a feeling in him that the Giants got the best of a two-pitcher trade with Baltimore, sending away Mike McCormick and Stu Miller for Billy Hoef and Jack Fisher.

"You're always looking to improve your club," he said. "I think these fellows will help us. And with a little help, we're the champions."

Who will be the ones that must be beaten?

"Always the Dodgers," he said of a feud that has survived the years and a transcontinental shift. "And the St. Louis Cardinals should be right up there. Also you can't count out those Cincinnati Reds."

Mention of the Reds came almost as an afterthought. The Dodgers to him, and any Giant, are the ones who must be beaten. Even losing the baseball players golf championship to big Jim Hearn by a mere two shots didn't matter too much.

After all, Hearn is a former Giant, and, in this league, once a Giant, always a Giant. After the winter he experienced, Dark figures he has another shot coming at the Series.

Warriors, Stanford, USF Rate Credit For Weekend Victories

Give credit where credit is due. San Francisco's Warriors finally beat the Los Angeles Lakers, Stanford came back to take the lead in the Big Six, and the University of San Francisco tops the field in the WCAC. And all victories came on foreign courts.

Warrior Coach Bob Feerick staked his big try on the Big Dipper, Wilt Chamberlain, and the Stilt came through in spite of being double teamed most of the night. You can't argue with a 56-point effort. Paradoxically, Chamberlain almost cost the Warriors the game by missing seven of eleven foul throws, but it was his two charity shots that finally won in the second overtime.

Most of the rest of the Warriors were colder than yesterday's mashed potatoes. A little help would have won the contest in regulation time. Defensively, the Warriors played one of their better games, taking advantage of the absence of the injured Jerry West to force the rest of the Lakers outside and assuring ball control on any missed shots.

ALL THE Warriors showed more desire in this one than they have in recent games. The locals have played it tough all year. Injuries, player changes, and some bad luck have hurt. Next year could bring them back into contention and into the hearts of the Bay Area basketball buffs.

Stanford still has some work cut out for its team if the Indians expect to represent the West in the playoffs this year. USC gave them a big assist by trouncing Washington, but UCLA remains a most formidable opponent.

THE USF DONS could go all the way in their conference, and their supporters can be cheered by the showing of a fine freshman team this year. Things are looking up on the

Ralston Boosts U.S. Hopes In Davis Cup

NEW YORK (AP)—Dennis "The Menace" Ralston is perhaps the flashiest tennis player to streak across American courts since Jack Kramer, but his success in winning back the Davis Cup depends on a sensitive trigger temper.

"This boy could be the greatest," said Gardner Mulloy after Ralston had whipped Mike Sangster of Britain 7-5, 4-6, 6-3, 10-8 for the National Indoor Championship yesterday, "but he must be handled properly."

"The people who run the game almost cut his heart out when they suspended him a couple of years ago. He is an artist—very moody and temperamental—but if he can be made to believe in himself, there's no limit to where he can go."

Ralston, 20, a junior at the University of Southern California, became the youngest player ever to win the indoor title. Unseeded, he swept through a star-spangled field that included such world-ranking stars as Roy Emerson of Australia, Manuel Santana of Spain and Chuck McKinley of San Antonio, Tex. He beat McKinley, the United States' No. 1 ranked player, in the semifinals.

This victory plus the one over the hard-serving Sangster sent U.S. Davis Cup hopes skyrocketing to their greatest heights in years. Most observers were worried only about Ralston's explosive temper, which brought him a four-month suspension in 1961.

"Ever since he was a kid of 15, I've thought he had as much promise as any player I have ever known," said Bill Talbert, former U.S. Davis Cup captain.

"He always has had a marvelous tennis sense but has been held back by his temperamental. Now I think he has it under control and he has great stick-to-itiveness."

Ralston, who at 17 shared the Wimbledon doubles title with Mexico's Rafael Osuna, teamed with McKinley to take the doubles crown by beating Cliff Buchholz of St. Louis and William Hoogs of Berkeley, Calif., 11-9, 11-9, 17-15.

Hamilton AFB Boxers Win Three Titles

San Rafael Woman Captures Marin Bowling Championship

Three boxers from Hamilton Air Force Base have qualified to represent San Francisco in the National AAU tournament next month in Utica, N. Y. after their victories in the Golden Gloves championships in San Francisco Saturday night.

From Hamilton Air Force will be 119-pound Arthur Jones, 156-pound Martin Berzowski and 178-pound Bob Christopherson.

In the finals, Jones defeated Cecil Robinson of Fort Ord, Berzowski defeated Kenny Warren of the Stockton Kiwanis Club and Christopherson TKO'd Ed Rollins of Vallejo.

Observers call all three HAFB boxers exceptionally good fighters. Christopherson, former intercollegiate titleholder, was runner-up in the nationals last year.

In the heavyweight class, Ronald Pettus of Hamilton Field was decided by Michael Galbraith of the Vacaville Boys Club in the finals as the Hamilton team almost put four men on the 10-man San Francisco team.

In the junior division, Hamilton's Kenneth Wilson was TKO'd by Robert Knox of Oakland in the 147-pound class.

Mrs. Gray also powered the Country Club Bowl quintet to the team championship. Her teammates include Charlotte Warcup, Joan Harris and Elois Simpson of San Rafael and Rose Marie Owens of Corte Madera. They won the title with a scratch score of 2554 and 336 handicap pins for a 2890 total.

The singles championship was won by Blanche Altermatt of Kentfield with 512 scratch, 108 handicap and 1258 total.

Lucy Sawitzky and Jeanne Blumenfeld, both of San Rafael, teamed up to capture the doubles championship with 1096-162—1258.

Team prize is $100, doubles is worth $50 and singles and All-Events $30 each. The champs also will receive trophies at an awards meeting March 23 at Nave Lanes, 1 p.m., according to Evalyn Kelly, secretary of the MCWBA.

Mrs. Kelly said the tournament attracted 70 team entries, 96 doubles, 192 singles and 149 all-events.

Tars Retain Title Hopes

Led by the returning Dave Neumann, the College of Marin Tar basketballers dumped the Yuba College cagers 89-81 Saturday night in Marysville to keep the Mariners' chances alive in the Golden Valley Conference.

The Tars are in second place with a 6-2 conference mark, trailing Shasta College which has an 8-1 record. College of Marin has four games to go and Shasta has three.

In Saturday night's game, Yuba led throughout the first 17 minutes. But then a field goal by Charlie Bullock, two free throws by Brad Busch and another charity toss by Randy Petrini put the Tars ahead with three minutes to go in the first half.

From that moment on, the Tars never were threatened as they led the Yubans for the rest of the game. Halftime score was 45-38.

BALANCED SCORING

Neumann, who had missed a few games this year with a back injury, sparked the Tars with 26 points. College of Marin provided a balanced scoring attack with three of the other starters—Bullock, Petrini and Seve Bryant—hitting for 14 points apiece.

Bryant led the rebounders for the Tars with 13 off the boards. Brad Busch picked off 11 rebounds for the Mariners.

Front-running Shasta almost got upset by Santa Rosa Saturday as the Shasta cagers scored a come-from-behind 59-58 victory over the Bear Cubs.

College of Marin scoring:

Dave Neumann, 10-6-26; Charlie Bullock, 5-4-14; Randy Petrini, 5-4-14; Steve Bryant, 6-2-14; Brad Busch, 3-2-8; Mike Kavanagh, 3-0-6; Bob Nehls, 1-1-3; Pete Bardea, 1-1-3; Bill Hodgson, 0-1-1. Totals, 34-21-89.

Harry Dayoff, Hall Of Famer, Dies

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Harry Dayoff, a former intercollegiate football referee voted into the football Hall of Fame, died yesterday at Harrisburg Polyclinic Hospital. He was 66 and had been hospitalized for one week.

However, it was back into the ring today for the former champion from West Jordan, Utah, as he continued his training to win back the title.

Fullmer Back In Training

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—Gene Fullmer returned to the training ring today for his middleweight title fight against champion Dick Tiger—while Tiger was following Fullmer's day off with one of his own.

An elder in the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints, Fullmer did not work out yesterday—but instead preached at a local Mormon church.

Tam Cagers Will Go After MCAL Title In San Rafael

A win tomorrow for Tamalpais in its basketball game with San Rafael High School will give the Indians the championship of the 1962-63 Marin Athletic League campaign.

Tam will be on the San Rafael Bulldogs' courts in the headliner of tomorrow's program. Other games will find Novato at Marin Catholic and Terra Linda at Redwood. All games will start at 4 p.m. followed by the B teams.

Tam has been making it a walk-away this season in league competition as the Indians have won all 10 of their league contests. They are leading team statistics in both offense and defense with 53.5 and 41.4 averages.

In their first meeting, Tam rocked the Bulldogs 58-45.

STRONG STARTERS

Tam is paced by a strong front line of center Art Foster, forwards Ellis Williams and Jim Durbin and guards Warren Domino and Art Ford. Bill Gillingham, a starting guard on last year's team, has joined the Tam squad after suffering a knee injury in football but is still not up to par.

Domino is the Indians' leading scorer, as he passed up Ford in the scoring column last Friday. Domino has scored 128, to Ford's 124. Durbin follows with 116 points to his credit. The three have consistently been among the top 10 scorers in the league all season.

For San Rafael, Rod Monti is the big gun with a total of 159 points and a 17.7 average. He established a new individual scoring record for one game this year with a 36-point performance against winless Terra Linda.

WELL RESTED

San Rafael (5-4) will be rested up after its bye last Friday, and may provide a sparked-up team, hungry for victory.

Novato will be gunning for its third win when the Hornets tackle rough Marin Catholic tomorrow. The Wildcats from Marin Catholic will be trying to improve on its 7-2 record with a victory over Novato (2-7).

Marin Catholic, led by guard

Ron O'Connell, has been trailing Tam all year and will probably have to be content with the runner-up berth in the league this year. The Marin bunch have been hampered with the loss of Bob Redding who has been ill the past few games.

TOP SCORERS

O'Connell has scored 131 points this year for an average per game of 14.6. Novato has been led in the scoring column all year by Nick Willard, the league's leading scorer with 164 points and a nine-game average of 18.2.

Terra Linda is still searching for its first league win this year, its first in the Marin Athletic League. The Trojans (0-10) should not find victory tomorrow, however, as the Giants of Redwood have showed much improvement over the season.

Last Friday the Giants (4-5) upended Drake 54-47, showing a much improved team over the squad which opened the season with three straight losses.

In the B division, Drake has assured itself of at least a tie in for the championship and draws tomorrow's bye. So the junior Pirates will just sit back and watch the rest of the action in the junior loop.

JEFF SKOV, newly-appointed sports director for Radio KTIM, will be behind the "mike" tomorrow to broadcast the Tam-San Rafael High School basketball game.

New Sports Director Joins KTIM Tomorrow

When Tam and San Rafael High School basketballers go into action tomorrow at 4 p.m., the voice of Radio KTIM's new sports director will bring the action to listeners.

Jeff Skov, a 1961 Redwood High graduate, has been appointed to the post left vacant last fall by the resignation of Ted Mitchell, manager Hugh Turner announced today.

Skov, 20-year-old Kentfield resident, will handle play-by-play of all games for the KTIM Sportsmen's Club, and will also broadcast the regular five night a week Little League schedule, Turner said.

In his last year at Redwood, Skov was co-editor of the school paper, Redwood Bark, and for two years was public address announcer for all the school's major sports.

He is at present a radio-television major at San Francisco State and hopes for a career in radio-TV journalism.

Skov will add to KTIM sports coverage with a weekly roundup of Marin activities to be heard each Saturday at 9 a.m., Turner said.

Jeff is the son of Mrs. Margery Skov of 121 Kent Avenue, Kentfield.

Ex-Giant Star Wins Golf Title; Dark 3rd

MIAMI (UPI) — Former Giant pitcher Jim Hearn outlasted Boston Red Sox coach Billy Herman yesterday to win the 23rd annual National Baseball Players Golf Championship by one stroke with a total of 301.

The hefty Sox coach closed a four-stroke gap to one stroke with a 37-38—75 final round while big Jim shot 39-39—78 on the rain-soaked Miami Springs Golf Club course.

Defending champion Alvin Dark's efforts for a fifth win netted the Giant manager third place with a 303 total after a

MarVel A.C. Wins Title

MarVel Athletic Club weightlifter Leon Center and Fran Gearhart qualified for the Northern California AAU Senior Championships March 2 as the San Rafael club won its fifth Northern California AAU Junior Title Saturday.

The MarVel club scored 21 points to whip the team from San Jose which scored 10 points and the Oakland team which scored nine points.

Center won the 132-pound class, featuring a 205-pound clean-and-jerk. Second places went to Dave Holmes, Ed Ghiringhelli and Ken Cook of San Rafael, and Gearhart and Frank Holton of San Anselmo, while Jeff Chan added a point for a third place finish.

The Marin team will be defending champs in the AAU senior championships which are slated for the San Jose Civic Auditorium.

This Time He's Speeding, But Bo Is Late Again

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) — Bo Belinsky, the Los Angeles Angels' pitcher-playboy, or is it playboy-pitcher, promised he would stay out of trouble this year. But that just doesn't seem to be his luck.

Belinsky, late to practice the opening day of spring training last Tuesday, was late again yesterday. When asked why, it was reported he told manager Bill Rigney he was stopped by a policeman for speeding — because he was trying to get to the ball park on time.

The lefthander apparently did not receive a citation, but was given a good talking to by the officer. So it appears his luck isn't entirely bad.

Fantastic Display By January

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — If they drive for show and putt for dough, as all golfers claim, then Don January is in business.

He captured the $25,000 Tucson Open golf tournament yesterday with one of the most fantastic four-day putting displays on record—whipping a strong field by 11 big strokes.

So he picked up his $3,500 check and headed for a 10-day vacation today before reporting to New Orleans for the open tournament starting there March 1.

"The putting was phenomenal," beamed the usually-silent Texan. "I've never seen anything like it."

22 UNDER PAR

Neither had most of the other touring professionals. January closed out the tournament by shooting a seven-under-par 65, posting a 72-hole score of 266 — 22 under par — for the distance on a tough golf course, the 49er Country Club. He had rounds of 65-67-69-65 for the four rounds of play. He never three-putted a single green.

Former National Open champion Gene Littler finished in a deadlock for second place with defending champion Phil Rodgers, each with 276s, good for $2,050.

There was a four-way tie for fourth place, featuring Rex Baxter, Frank Boynton, Tom Nieporte and Canada's Al Balding. They each had a 278, good for $1,275.

Tucson amateur Dr. Ed Updegraff, member of the United States Walker cup team, closed with a fine 67 for a 279. At 280 came Tony Lema and Bob Harris, each picking up $975.

Dodger Stadium Will Get Big Lift

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Baseball fans at Dodger Stadium will get a lift this coming season. Escalators are coming.

The big new stadium in Chavez Ravine is famous among its customers for its towering stairwells, two up and two down. They will cost $250,000. Walsh said they should be in operation early in the season.

The units will be installed near the existing elevators. One pair will operate between field level and loge level. The second will run between the loge and club level.

EN ROUTE TO AN AMERICAN RECORD

Charley Clark (left) of Santa Anna trails Danny Murphy of San Jose during early part of the two-mile race, but turned on the speed down the home stretch to capture the title in the Golden Gate Invitational track meet in San Francisco Saturday night. Clark's time of 8:45.8 was a new American citizens indoor record. Murphy was clocked at 8:47.3.

Stanford Gains Lead, Faces UCLA In 'Crucial' This Week

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

UCLA, the pre-season favorite in the Big Six basketball race, can turn things upside down this Friday by knocking off Stanford at the Indian's cozy pavilion.

The Bruins, who are seeking revenge for a loss there earlier this month and will have had almost two weeks of rest by buzzer time, hold a 3-3 mark in the conference. A win would send them into first place and Stanford, currently 5-3, would skid into third.

How about Washington (6-4), which currently is second? The Huskies face Washington State Thursday but the outcome will have no bearing on the standings. Washington State is a member of the Big Six but does not play a representative schedule this season.

The University of San Francisco (6-0) can go a long way toward clinching the West Coast Athletic Conference title if it beats feeble University of the Pacific (0-6) tomorrow and erratic San Jose State (3-4) Friday. St. Mary's (5-1) has three games this week in its battle to overtake the streaking Dons. The Gaels play Santa Clara, Loyola and Pepperdine. A rundown on Saturday's action.

BIG SIX

Stanford, which lost by a point to California Friday at home, invaded Berkeley the next night and downed the Bears, 68-58. Cal held a three point lead at the half but couldn't withstand the shoot-

S.F. Warriors Finally Top L.A. Lakers

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The San Francisco Warriors finally caught up with—and passed—the Los Angeles Lakers. But it took them 32 regulation quarters and a couple of overtimes to do it.

Wilt Chamberlain's two free throws with a half-minute to play in the second overtime Saturday night broke a 118-118 tie and San Francisco scored another meaningless bucket at the buzzer to whip the Lakers 122-118.

It was San Francisco's first victory over its intrastate rival in eight games this season.

So, although they're not exactly flushed with success, the Warriors will be out to make it two in a row when the clubs battle it out tomorrow night at the San Francisco Cow Palace.

Although Chamberlain has had his problems against the Lakers this year—as have all the Warriors—he was at his best against Los Angeles before the 10,039 fans at the Sports Arena Saturday night.

He led all scorers with 56 points, grabbed many key rebounds and—even though he is a poor free throw shooter and hit only 4 of 11—made the two big ones when they were needed most.

Sam Jones Hurts Ankle In Practice

PALM SPRINGS (UPI) — Veteran righthander "Sad" Sam Jones suffered a severe sprain of his right ankle yesterday and was expected to face at least a five-day snag in his comeback try with the Los Angeles Angels.

Jones injury came when he was sliding into home plate at the desert training grounds. X-rays revealed that there was no fracture.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

MANILA — Flash Elorde, 130, Philippines, outpointed Johnny Bizarro, 129½, Erie, Pa., 15. Elorde retained world junior lightweight title.

NEW YORK — Joey Archer, 160, New York, outpointed Blair Richardson, 158½, Sydney, N.S., 10.

TOKYO — Takao Maemizo, 156, Japan, outpointed Noboru Saito, 153, Japan, 10.

PANAMA — Auburn Copeland, 127½, Los Angeles, defeated Beresford Francis, 124, Panama, 10.

of the San Francisco Young Republicans, by a vote of 192 to 167. Marin's vote was Moss two, Majersik five, and one abstention.

After both contests, the defeated candidates moved that the vote be made unanimous, but the gesture was shouted down by the disappointed "moderate" delegates.

John Gromala of Fortuna, outgoing first district vice president, was elected general counsel over Howard Seligman of San Joaquin by a 180 to 160 vote. The Marin delegation voted 6 to 2 for the loser.

Walter McGovern of Marinwood was elected unopposed to the first district vice presidency after a district caucus in which he defeated Dr. Charles Sims of Crescent City.

McGovern's nomination by the caucus was by a 7 to 5 vote in a secret ballot in which each county was given two votes and each state officer one additional vote. Marin's caucus voted 5 to 2 for Sims, so its two votes went for him.

Challenge to the legality of the whole Marin County delegation was wiped out in a blanket resolution offered by Gromala. He proposed that all challenges, against county and individuals alike, be rejected by the credentials committee without hearing testimony on them.

The motion was ruled out of order by the chairman but his ruling was overturned by the committee and the motion approved.

Later, however, a challenge was made against Marin County chairman Donald Black as not having paid local or state dues. Marin treasurer John Schmitz produced the records to show Black's local dues were paid and he was seated.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, not here as a delegate, acted as anchor man on a panel of Republican legislators which included Rep. Gerald Ford of Michigan, newly elected chairman of the GOP conference.

In an immediate reaction to Gaston's election as president, the Young Republicans' college federation, with 4,000 of the total 13,000 members, gave notice it planned to quit the organization. Gaston promptly removed federation president Harold Phillips from a Young GOP post.

Gaston pledged to work with Republican State Chairman Caspar W. Weinberger, who only Saturday tried obliquely to steer the party's junior branch away from Birch control.

Opponents called Gaston's election a power grab by the extremist society. Democratic State Chairman Eugene Wyman said the entire Republican Party now is in danger of falling to the Birchers.

The state's oldest volunteer GOP organization, the California Republican Assembly will meet at Disneyland next weekend. Its officers have warned of a right-wing drive to capture it.

Gaston, a former Air Force lieutenant, campaigned on the theme that "the terms Republican and conservative are synonymous."

He acknowledged financial help by conservative former assemblyman Joseph C. Shell, a warm admirer of Sen. Barry Goldwater and Richard M. Nixon's unsuccessful foe in the 1962 Republican gubernatorial primary. He said he also received some funds through former Rep. John Rousselot, now a paid executive of the Birch Society.

In Minneapolis, President Leonard Nadasdy of the National Young Republican Federation criticized the seating of what he termed paper units from Los Angeles. He questioned whether the convention was legal.

Gaston expressed confidence he'll be able to patch up differences with the federation. He told delegates after his election that reports of factionalism within the Young Republicans had been greatly exaggerated.

High Court Rules On Citizenship

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled unconstitutional by a 5-4 vote today two acts of Congress which strip citizenship from persons who stay abroad in wartime to avoid military service.

The court majority said the two acts failed to provide procedural safeguards which the Constitution demands, and therefore they could not stand.

Justice Goldberg delivered the majority opinion. Justice Harlan dissented in an opinion in which Justice Clark joined. Justice Stewart also had a dissenting opinion in which Justice White joined.

The high court majority reasoned that the two acts amounted to "punishment" by withdrawal of citizenship. They declared that punishment can never be constitutionally imposed except after a criminal trial and conviction.

Justice Goldberg's opinion explained: "What we hold is only that, in keeping with cherished tradition, punishment cannot be imposed without due process of law. Any lesser holding would ignore the constitutional mandate upon which our essential liberties depend."

Goldberg said the majority recognized that draft evasion, particularly in time of war, "is a heinous offense and should and can be properly punished."

"Dating back to Magna Carta, however," he added, "it has been an abiding principle governing the lives of civilized men that no freeman shall be taken or imprisoned or disseised or outlawed or exiled... without the judgment of his peers or by the law of the land."

Disseised means deprived of a possession.

One of the statutes involved is a section of the 1940 Nationality Act calling for loss of nationality by draft evaders who leave the country. The other is a section of the 1952 McCarran Immigration Act which says a native loses his citizenship by remaining outside the United States to evade military service during wartime.

The court ruled on two appeals by the Justice Department from decisions by lower tribunals that Congress lacked authority to deprive Americans of citizenship in two cases.

High Court Rules On Book Censorship

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court ruled unconstitutional today several book censoring activities practiced in Rhode Island.

The 8 to 1 ruling upheld a protest by four publishers of paperback books who challenged the actions of the Rhode Island commission to encourage morality in youth.

The commission was established by the general assembly in 1956 to educate the public concerning obscene books, pictures and other material.

The commission at the time the lawsuit was started had sent 35 notices to distributors listing books or magazines unfit for readers under 18.

Some 108 books were labeled unfit between 1957 and 1960. The notices contained the suggestion that distributors "cooperate" and copies were sent to local police.

Max Silverstein and Son of Providence is the exclusive distributor of the four publishers' books for about three-fourths of the state.

The company always collected the listed material and returned it to the publisher, the court was told, but Providence police usually asked Silverstein what action had been taken.

Justice William J. Brennan Jr., said for the majority that the decision does not rule out all private consultation between law enforcement officers and distributors before the start of court proceedings.

"Where such consultation is genuinely undertaken with the purpose of aiding the distributor to comply with (obscenity) laws and avoid prosecution under them, it need not retard the full enjoyment of first amendment freedoms," he said. "But that is not this case."

The Rhode Island commission, Brennan said, is a form of state regulation "superimposed upon the state's criminal regulation of obscenity and making such regulation unnecessary."

The court's lone dissenter, Associate Justice John M. Harlan, said he agreed with the majority that the "tenor of some of the commission's letters and reports is subject to some criticism."

But he said that "these are things that can be cured by a word to the wise."

Ordinance On Salaries Due Council

An ordinance to fix the salaries of elective city officials—apart from the council members themselves—will be introduced at tonight's San Rafael City Council meeting, which convenes at 8 p.m. in the city hall.

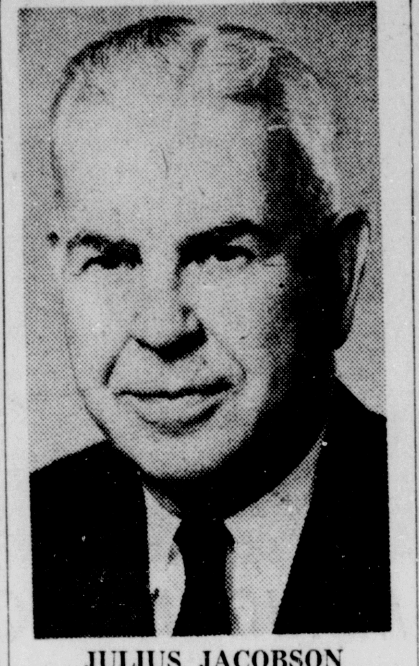

Action must be taken if salaries of police chief, city attorney, clerk and treasurer are to be increased for the terms starting in April. Incumbent police chief, clerk and treasurer, all of whom are seeking re-election, have asked increases. City Atty. A. E. Bagshaw, who has announced he will not run, has proposed that the city pay part of the salary of a secretary for the city attorney; this would not require an ordinance.

Nick Giampoli is expected to appear before the council to argue reasons why he should not have been ousted as a police lieutenant in December by Chief Charles J. Chiesa.

A resolution of intention to create the Francisco Boulevard Assessment District is scheduled for vote. Other items among the 20 on the agenda include applications for card room permits by Frank McAuliffe at 813 Fourth Street and Arbury C. Johnson at 877 Fourth Street.

ALLERGIC TO WOOD British Carpenter Pensioned At 32

BIRMINGHAM, Eng. (AP)—Carpenter Leslie Cox has been pensioned off at 32 because he's allergic to wood.

For 14 years Cox worked for the city parks department. Then he started developing a skin rash whenever he handled certain kinds of wood.

The parks department had no other job for him. He was pensioned off.

That means he will draw 3 pounds—$8.40—a week for the next 33 years. Then, at 65, his pension will drop to 2 pounds, 11 shillings and 1 penny—slightly over $7. He'll get that for the rest of his life.

Cox says he's going to look for another job—where he doesn't handle wood.

Study Of Adrenalin Wins Science Prize

A project dealing with the effects of adrenalin on a living organism, submitted by biology students Rich Connor and John Zimmerman, last week won the grand prize in Marin Catholic High School's science fair.

The exhibit also won first place in the group project subdivision. Second prize went to William McLaughlin and Robert Pasqualetti for a study of the effect of antibiotics on bacteria. Third prize was won by Julie Zernicke and Virginia Lally for their work with the effect of light on the growth of bacteria.

Individual project winners were Drew Sullivan, who won first place for a study of photoperiodism and plant growth; Beth Ritzinger, second, for the use of chlorella in space biology, and Bill Hoeft, third, for a study entitled "Chlorophyll Takes a Ride."

The winning projects, which were on exhibit at the school, will be entered in the Marin County science fair at College of Marin in March.

Cards Are Stacked

WASHINGTON (UPI)—American women complain that when they go into business, men stack the cards against them.

Statistics prove they are right because few women have fought their way to the top of big corporations and in factories their pay frequently is lower than that paid to men for equivalent work.

THERE ARE thousands of rich women in the United States, but most of them inherited the money. Women own about half the stocks, bonds and similar personal property in the nation, and most of them turn the management of the assets over to men. Albert E. Schwabacher Jr., San Francisco investment banker, recently told a University of California symposium that some women fall in love with certain stocks just as they do with men.

"They are likely to develop affectionate feelings toward their investments," he said, "often buying or refusing to buy for purely emotional reasons."

WOMEN HAVE complained so long about discrimination in business and industry that President Kennedy has appointed a commission on the status of women which has come up with some preliminary findings.

One of them is that there are about 29 million American women who work regularly or intermittently and that 95 per cent of them earn less than $5,000 a year.

Several years ago Fortune Magazine surveyed the role of women in big corporations:

"IN SPITE OF the loosening of prejudice, women still have not been given top jobs in big corporations. General Motors has no women executives, and not even a woman designer or engineer. General Electric has a few technicians, research associates and women in personnel but no women executives except for the head of the advisory consumer institute.

"Du Pont has a woman laboratory section head and a departmental control manager. U.S. Steel has no women executives. A. T. and T., although 60 per cent of its employees are women, has in its central executive group a lone woman assistant secretary. Standard Oil of New Jersey has two assistant secretaries. U.S. Rubber for years has given women supervisory jobs in certain plants, but no department heads are women."

ALL BIG CORPORATIONS insist there is no prejudice against women and David Sarnoff of the Radio Corporation of America stated it this way: "If you were to ask me to give you one good reason why we have no women vice presidents in RCA, I couldn't. It is just habit and tradition as well as the fact that women are not looked upon as permanent in their positions."

The fact that women are looked upon as here today and gone tomorrow is their principal handicap. The statistics are heavily weighted by the vast number of girls who take jobs as clerks and stenographers to fill in time until they get married.

OTHER ROADBLOCKS to women in business include:

—Most companies are reluctant to have women supervise departments where males are employed.

—Women are too openly emotional in their approach to business problems.

—Women have substantially higher rates of absenteeism.

—Few women have the training or knowledge for high-level positions.

The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs prepared a list of 28 women who had built their own business or made vital contributions to the founding and growth of a business. Three were in the cosmetics business—Helena Rubinstein, Jacqueline Cochran and Elizabeth Arden.

AT THE TURN of the century about the only jobs open to American women were school teaching, nursing, making hats or dresses and working as domestic servants. Opportunities widened and increased, hitting a peak during World War II which was the hey-day of Rosie the Riveter and Winnie the Welder. Women never had it so good before or since.

TWENTY-TWO states have laws forbidding wage discrimination against women and an equal-pay provision is written into thousands of union contracts. Nevertheless a survey by the National Office Management Assn. showed that one-third of the firms paid women less than men for equivalent work.

The 1963 Greens Sale chairman will be Mrs. Ross and, in charge of the sugar plum feature at the sale will be Mrs. R. F. Forster.

Mrs. Yopes will be in charge of program and Mrs. Picard will handle the instruction schedule.

AN ADVISORY committee to be a part of the board of directors will include Mrs. Russell G. Smith, Mrs. Arthur W. Feidler, both members of the board of directors of the Marin Art and Garden Center and founders of the Decorations Guild; Mrs. J. H. Canon, immediate past president; and Mrs. Winston Jones.

By-aws committee women on the board will include Mesdames Geary, Jones and Johnson.

MRS. NORMAN B. LIVERMORE, when she accepted a check from the guild for over $5,000 for the center, commented "this annual check always staggers me, and this year, more than ever because in spite of the bad weather for the Greens Sale last December, I see the check is for a thousand more than last year."

The money, derived from the guild's year-around fundraising events, including the Greens Sale, is used to help maintain the center.

Mrs. Livermore pointed out that when she "only started in with the Art and Garden Center in order to save this beautiful site from being cut up into a subdivision I never dreamed it would develop as it has."

Dear Mrs. F.P.:

Ordinarily I would say it isn't necessary, however cotton belting will shrink so if you are planning to launder your belt, it would be best to pre-shrink it. This is done by dipping in fairly hot water and then allowing to dry naturally before pressing.

"Please tell us how to adjust a pattern when a person is long waisted in back. The problem is getting the side seams to come out even."—Mrs. M.L.

Dear Mrs. M.L.:

Often if a woman isn't large in the bust, it is possible that she may be longer waisted in back (I am assuming you aren't speaking of being round-shouldered). Add whatever is necessary for the extra length in back, then, to make the side seams come out even, you will have to make the dart at the side of the bust in front smaller. This will drop the front of the bodice down at the side seams and they should come out even.

SKIRT SAVER: "I am 12 years old and became interested in sewing last summer. I discovered that I can make use of my 'too short' last year's plaid skirts by sewing a row of wool fringe down the edge of a side front pleat and wearing them with knee sox as kilts. I even made a wool crop top in one of the colors in the plaid and used the fringe around the bottom of it to co-ordinate the

Mama Can Be Free As A Bird With Use Of Dandy Baby Cage

Want to buy a baby cage? My friend who has designed one says it will make motherhood easy. Sounds good, doesn't it?

His baby cage is a slick fiberglass box, about three times as big as a hospital incubator. It has glass on one side, so you can see in. An electrical gadget controls the temperature inside the cage, another controls the humidity and the flow of sterilized air. The inventor says you should put your baby into the cage and leave him there. When he cries a microphone picks up his wails and broadcasts the sounds so you can hear. He eats from a bottle suspended neatly over his head. He sleeps on a plywood mattress, with a waterproof cover. My friend has thought of everything. He says the baby should be taken out of the cage for baths, and to have his diapers changed. But that's all. His mama can be free as a bird the rest of the time. Her baby is safe.

Do you like the idea? I don't! My friend doesn't know it, but this invention is an old one. I saw a similar cage 25 years ago. I've known a few would be in better proportion for you if you used one size smaller. Carefully check the lines of the coat and if you see there doesn't seem to be any excess fullness, get the size you have always used.

Now might be the time to make an Easter hat. Instructions for making a braided satin pillbox hat are free. Simply send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Eunice Farmer, in care of the Independent-Journal.

It Will Be Quite A Different Person Who Returns To Fiji

BY MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Friends of Prakash Mati, who came to Mill Valley five years ago speaking only Hindustani, can scarcely believe it is the same person who will be leaving on Saturday for her home in the Fiji Islands.

Last night the young people of the high school and college departments of the First Baptist Church of Mill Valley gave her a farewell party and presented her with a battery-operated record player, together with money to pay the high duty on such an import.

BORN IN NASINU in the Fiji Islands, one of seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Shiu Mangal who had emigrated there from India, Prakash lived in Fiji until she was graduated from the eighth grade. Her surname is different from that of her parents, she explained, because parents in India usually give each child an individual last name as well as a first name.

Even as a child her characteristic strong will was shown in her decision to go to the United States for further education. Through the help of her principal, Mohammed Abdullah, arrangements were made for her to live with Mr. and Mrs. David Friesen and their two children, Duane, now 21, and Diane, 19, in Mill Valley, all members of the First Baptist Church there.

THEY PROVIDED her with room and board and Dr. F. L.

Drexler, retired minister of the church, who still lives in Mill Valley, has furnished her monthly spending money.

After five years in this country she is today like the butterfly that undergoes metamorphosis in the cocoon, a completely different creature—thanks to her hard work and strong will.

Said her foster mother, Mrs. Friesen, "I have never known anyone with the determination she has."

WHEN PRAKASH arrived, she spoke only a few words of English and wore long braids and sandals and the unmarried Hindu girl's black blouse and skirt or a sari—only the married women are permitted to indulge in color.

Today she speaks English fluently with very little accent, has a permanent and up-to-date hair style and dresses in the fashions favored by American girls of her age. And she became a Christian during Billy Graham's last series of meetings held in San Francisco.

About the only trace of her Hindu background other than her features is a tiny gold "keel" dot she wears in one nostril. Questioned as to how it is worn, she said, "it's screwed in—like earrings in pierced ears, you know."

PRAKASH WAS graduated from Tamalpais High School last June, where she specialized in business courses. As president of its library club for two years, the longest period any student has held the position, she was presented with a special award. Library work was her favorite extracurricular interest and she worked in the school's library, but she was also active in the Girl's Athletic Assn., the Pep Club and the International Club.

After completing one semester at the College of Marin last January, she decided five years was long enough to go without seeing her family. On learning the news that she is coming home one of her brothers postponed his wedding so that she can attend.

BUT SHE PLANS to return, next time under the immigration quota instead of a temporary student visa, for she has come to love this country and its ways.

"I think girls here have so many more privileges, and I like American clothes," she said. Under our customs you must be accompanied everywhere by an older person, and marriages are arranged by parents.

"I hope to come back to Mill Valley and get some kind of job in business."

PAMELA NOEL TO BE BRIDE

Mr. and Mrs. James D. Noel of Fairfax are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Pamela, to Ronald Anthony Green of Fairfax.

The bride-elect, who was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School, is the sister of James Noel Jr. of Fairfax; Mrs. Bruce Cooper of San Anselmo and Paulette Noel of Fairfax. Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Hotton of Phoenix, Ariz., and the late Thomas Gardner of Fairfax are her grandparents.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. C. L. Barnett of Fairfax and Russel Green of Willows, was also graduated from Drake High. He is the brother of Kim Green and Russel Green of Fairfax and Cindy and Linda Loech of Willows. Mr. and Mrs. Karl A. Green and Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Kelsay are his grandparents.

The wedding will be an event of March 10 in the Fairfax Community Church.

PICTURED IN THE KIND of clothes she wears now are engaged in her favorite hobby of reading is Prakash Mati, who is leaving for her home in the Fiji Islands Saturday. Peppita, the little chihuahua dog, is one of the things in her foster home she will miss. "I wish I could slip her into my suitcase," she said. (Independent-Journal photo by Bob Hax.)

Wife Of Labor Party Chief Symbolizes A Social Gulf

By LAWRENCE MALKIN

LONDON (P)—Gladys Mary Wilson, whose husband may be Britain's next prime minister, symbolizes a social gulf in the nation perhaps wider than the political views separating its two major parties.

Lady Dorothy Macmillan, wife of the present Conservative prime minister, is the daughter of the Duke of Devonshire.

MRS. HAROLD WILSON, 46, is a Congregationalist minister's daughter who worked as a stenographer for five years before her marriage.

She refuses to be drawn into speculation about moving to No. 10 Downing Street, official residence of prime ministers.

"PEOPLE KEEP asking me what kind of curtains I am going to have, and all that sort of thing," she said Thursday night after Wilson was elected leader of the Labor party. "But I can't possibly say. I must wait until it happens."

THE WIFE OF a British prime minister is not the nation's first lady in the American sense of the term. Queen Elizabeth II and other members of the royal family take much of the spotlight.

MRS. WILSON'S image probably would be that of a middle-class housewife. She married Wilson in 1940, when he was an Oxford University instructor. They have a comfortable house in suburban Hampstead. They have two sons, Giles, 14, and Robin, 19, who is specializing in pure mathematics at Oxford.

In her spare time, Mrs. Wilson writes poetry.

Latin American Program For Mill Valley Study Group

"Today's Latin America" by Robert Alexander will be discussed by members of the International Relations Study Group of the Mill Valley Branch of the American Assn. of University Women Thursday. The meeting will be held at 10 a.m. in the home of the chairman, Mrs. J. P. Malich.

Mrs. Ronald Burnett will play a radio interview with Alexander she taped for the group. Another member, Mrs. Kenneth Rosenthal, will give first-hand information on the distribution of alliance for progress monies she observed during a recent Guatemalan trip.

Emphasis on Latin American problems has been of prime concern, according to Mrs. Malich, but the group has also studied the history and implications of the common market.

Planning and packing to make vacation travel more enjoyable will be demonstrated at the Tiburon Peninsula Club's Women's Auxiliary luncheon on Feb. 27. Mary Gordon, TWA's travel adviser, will speak on "44 Pounds to Anywhere."

A world traveler, who has experience more than a million miles of air travel to Europe, Asia and Africa, Miss Gordon emphasizes basic wardrobes and the subtle use of accessories to make a woman feel at home whether at a sidewalk cafe in Paris or at a reception in the home of an American ambassador.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Nothing Works Very Well When It Comes To Those Snorer Noise

One of my brothers-in-law discovered he does not snore when he takes an antihistaminic drug before retiring. "Is this possible?" He wanted to know and I had to say yes provided his wife (my sister) said it was so. After all, she is the listener and in this noisy condition, the listener suffers, not the victim.

The antihistaminic agent may reduce congestion in the nasal passageways at night. As a result the air flows in and out of his nose without making a sound. In addition, nasal rather than mouth breathing is encouraged.

THIS IS MENTIONED because not every person who snores sleeps on the back with the mouth open. Some of the noisiest bedfellows do their best log sawing when lying on the side with the mouth closed. They are nasal snorers and the sounds come from a partial obstruction or flapping appendages in the nose or back of the throat.

Anything capable of vibrating along the air passageways will give off a snoring sound. The usual offenders are the uvula hanging in the back of the throat and the flap-like epiglottis that guards the windpipe. But the soft palate, tonsil pillars, and relaxed cheeks are strong contenders. Sleeping on the back is conducive to snoring because it allows the chin to drop and the lower jaw to sag.

ANYTHING THAT obstructs the nose encourages mouth breathing, which explains why snoring is more common during a cold or among people with polyps or a deviated septum. This type of snoring often disappears when the causative condition is corrected.

There are remedies galore for snoring but none has withstood the test of time. Rolling over in bed and the use of a head halter to keep the mouth closed are high on the list. But nothing works so well as having the snorer sleep in a different room or having the real victim wear ear plugs or muffs.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

EAR TUBE BLOCKAGE
R. E. writes: How does a physician unblock a blocked eustachian tube?

REPLY
Three methods are utilized, depending upon the individual case. The most popular is to pass a catheter through the nose directly into the eustachian tube. In the second plan, suction is used. In the third, the individual attempts to exhale forcibly while holding the nostrils with the mouth closed. This method is risky when a respiratory infection exists because of the danger of forcing infected material into the ear.

VAN DELLEN

SORE ANKLE

Mrs. K. writes: My 6-year-old awakens occasionally at night complaining of pain in one ankle. Could this be growing pains?

REPLY

No. In all probability it stems from strain or sprain while running and jumping, as 6-year-olds are prone to do. See your physician if distress persists or is associated with redness and swelling of the joint.

PINS-AND-NEEDLES SENSATIONS

A. T. writes: Is it the usual thing for the left arm to feel numb or prickly at times after recovery from a heart attack?

REPLY

This sensation may be the result of the heart attack or may stem from an unrelated cause such as nervousness or a nerve disorder.

MOUTH DISCOMFORT

M. B. writes: What causes a burning tongue and dry mouth?

REPLY

Infection, anemia, certain foods or medicines, irritation from smoking, and nervousness are among the possibilities.

Today's Health Hint—Avoid those who have colds.

Outlook Of Economy Argued By Experts

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The most disquieting thing about all the talk in Washington these days is the dire future predicted by each speaker if the other fellow's ideas prevail.

The precarious balance of the economy is stressed by both sides. And the general public can't be blamed if it gets the idea that a turn for the worse could be in the making.

It has been told over and over that the economy is stalemate, that the high rate of unemployment isn't yielding to any private or government pressures and is taking on the suspicion of permanence, that forces outside the country are ganging up to cause real trouble.

An official Washington spokesman will say this handwriting on the wall can be erased if new government fiscal policies are tried; otherwise things will get worse for sure. His opponent will answer

Vet Exemptions Filing Dates Set

Filing dates for veterans seeking property tax exemptions begin at noon March 4 and end May 6. Marin County Service Officer James V. Burdick announced today.

The veteran's interest in the property must be recorded in the county recorder's office on or before noon of March 4.

that the economy will turn sour much faster and much longer if these untried policies are adopted.

Most businessmen have been assuring the public that the outlook for the immediate future, at least, looks pretty good. But predictions by business executives and economists have been known in the past to be far off the mark, as have those by government experts.

And many people can be excused if they decide to accept things as they are, be thankful if they have a job, or get a raise, and to expect nothing of the unforeseeable future.

Discounting much of the talk in Washington as being political, still the persistent piling up of dire predictions can have its effect on public psychology.

In the last few months most of the chief business statistics have held level or moved up only slightly. In the past this has happened when the economy was taking a breather after a vigorous rise before climbing higher.

It also has happened when a recovery drive was topping out before turning down into the next recession.

Particularly disquieting has been the failure of the rate of unemployment to move much other than seasonally. Some see a stubborn hard core taking on a permanent nature.

In Washington they debate whether federal government action can help, and if so, just which plan will do the trick. But all this emphasizes the trouble ahead which each side foresees if the other fellow's ideas prevail.

Marin City Sets Garbage Service

Marin City Community Services District directors have approved a temporary agreement with Ray's General Service of Marin City to handle garbage collection at the 59 new single family homes.

People will pay $2 per month for one collection a week up to 60 gallons, according to John A. Thomson, secretary.

The board also decided to ask for bids for garbage removal on a permanent basis, the bids to be opened at 8 p.m., March 21 at the Community Lounge.

Future use of the community building, after the church groups move out, was discussed, directors saying they hope to get more adults to use the center as well as children.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Some New Rules

By PETER J. WIKEL, C.P.A.

The new rules may affect you if you are in business for yourself or are an employee with an expense account.

Starting Jan. 1, 1963, if you claim a deduction for entertainment expenses you will have to show that there was a direct result of the entertainment for your business.

Also, if you own a boat, lodge, etc., which you use for business entertainment, it must be used more than 50 per cent for business, or you won't get any deduction. This same rule applies to dues to country clubs or like organizations.

There are also new rules for travel and other expenses away from home on business. If you spend "extravagant" amounts on meals and lodging, only a reasonable amount would be allowed.

If the trip lasts over a week and over 25 per cent of the time was spent in personal pursuits, then all of the expenses of the trip would have to be prorated between business and personal.

Under the old rules, if you could prove that you must have spent something on entertainment or business trips, a little would be allowed, even if you could not produce records for individual items.

Under the new rules, you will have to keep detailed records to show the cost of the item, the time and place of the entertainment, travel, etc., and the relation of the expense to your business.

You will also be required to get receipts, vouchers, etc., for expenditures of $10 or more. If you do not keep these records, no deduction will be allowed.

Supervisors Due Child Care Plan

A request for a state grant to study future child care needs at Marin County's juvenile hall will be considered tomorrow by the county board of supervisors.

Probation Officer Walter H. Busher will ask the board to apply for a $4,000 State Department of Mental Hygiene grant.

The department administers funds from the National Institute of Mental Health. The money would be used to pay two "child care authorities" for a one-month study of program requirements at the Lucas Valley juvenile hall.

Group To Aid Blood Center

A volunteer group has been organized to obtain more blood donors to the Marin Blood Center at 506 Fourth Street, San Rafael, it was announced today by Dr. John Manwaring, representative of the Marin Medical Society on the blood center committee.

Chairman of the volunteer group, named the Marin Blood Center Volunteers, is Rufus Rhoades of 240 Highland Avenue, San Rafael. A committee of the volunteers will be formed to coordinate giving of blood from Marin organizations.

The "in service" volunteer organization of 40 women, will not be effected by the new volunteer organization, according to Manwaring.

'Birth Of Nation' Slated At College

D. W. Griffith's 1915 film classic, "Birth of a Nation," will be shown Saturday at 8 p.m. at Olney Hall, College of Marin, as the second in the college art club's "Profile of the Film" series.

Other films to be studied are "Rashomon" and "The Red Balloon" on March 23, "An American in Paris" April 20, "Greed" on May 18 and two British comedies on June 1.

The study would be in advance of a detailed examination of juvenile court needs for the next 10 years.

The probation department expects to submit another report on projected needs to the board soon, Busher said. A major recommendation, he said, will relate to a treatment program "not only for committed children but for parents as well."

No county funds would be used for the recommended studies, according to Busher.

The board will also hear reports from several veterans' organizations on proposed construction of a memorial auditorium. The board previously asked the organizations to submit ideas as to where such a building should be located.

The morning session of the board will open at 9 o'clock. In the afternoon, the board will hear an appeal from a planning commission denial of commercial zoning of the Marguerite Copp property on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Inverness.
